Prime Minister Says Government
Will Recommend Loan to C.B.C.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 3 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said here today that the government is going to recommend an additional loan to the C.B.C. for its television program.

100% City Reception Seen Likely

Victoria would get practically 100 per cent reception if a sufficiently powerful transmitting station and high enough tower were installed on the mainland, according to R. G. Pearce, local television technician.

"Grouse Mountain would be a perfect site for a tower," he said. "However, if the station is not sufficiently powerful, a relay station on one of the hills near here would be required for really good reception."

Between 500 and 700 TV sets are now in operation here, he said, and enjoy 70-per-cent reception from Seattle. "When a second transmitter now constructed is given permission to operate, reception will be excellent," he said.

Victoria Television May Come 'Privately'

By BRIAN O'LEARY
Times Ottawa Correspondent
OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—Victoria may get television sooner than it expects—but from private radio interests rather than from the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Eastern Video To Make Debut On Saturday

MONTREAL, Sept. 3 (BUP)—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation today unveiled details of a national television service that cost $8,000,000 to organize and will make its formal debut here Saturday.

Regular television service in Canada, which already ranks third in terms of sets in use, although homegrown TV has not yet made its official bow, will start over Montreal station CBF-TV Saturday. CBF-TV, the Toronto outlet and only other Canadian station, will start regular service two days later.

The Montreal station already has been in operation two months, sending test programs. They included home games of the Montreal Royals of the International Baseball League and a limited number of shows ranging from culture to comedy. The CBC said the American TV standards—the 525-line system, for example—had been adopted in this country because it would facilitate the exchange of programs between the two countries.

BEATEN WITH ROPES, STICKS

Nun Reveals Torture Of Bishop by Chinese

HONG KONG, Sept. 3 (AP)—A Roman Catholic sister today said Chinese Communists heaped indignities on Maryknoll Bishop Francis X. Ford and, before his death, Feb. 21, forced him to undress before her in a Canton prison.

Sister Joan Marie Ryan, in serious condition herself after two years in prison, brought the first word of the 60-year-old bishop's death.

Ford, a native of Brooklyn and a veteran of 34 years' service in China, and Sister Ryan, his secretary, also of Brooklyn, were placed under house arrest Dec. 23, 1950, at Mei-Hsien, Kwangtung Province.

April 14, 1951, they were charged with spying and were started on a torturous 210-mile trip to a Canton prison. The sister related: Their bus stopped at a village, Hinning, and the Reds tied Ford with ropes and led him about the town.

Students beat him with ropes, sticks, stones and refuse. He was knocked down several times, but each time arose and—calmly and with dignity—walked on. The students were so out of control that the guards fled and she and the bishop had to return to the bus depot unattended.

At a second village the guards bound Ford with wet ropes. She said the final humiliation was in the Canton prison—the Reds forced him to undress before her.

Sister Ryan said she saw him four times in prison up to Feb. 1 and he was "appallingly emaciated and unable to walk."

Sister Ryan said that Aug. 16 she was shown a death certificate ascribing Ford's death to old age and natural causes.

Monday the Reds took her to a grave, told her the bishop was buried there, and forced her to sign a document saying Ford died of natural causes.

Ford was the third Roman Catholic bishop reported to have died under Communist arrest. The others were Bishop Cyril Jarra, a German, and a Bishop Leon Desmedt, a Belgian.

BROCK BACK WITH PUNS AND QUIPS

David Brock, quondam song-writer, poet, chef and beach-comber, returns to the editorial pages of The Times today, after a summer among the cockles and mussels, alive alive-o.

New title of his column is simply "Chips."

"Ex-readers will recall the horrible pun (Chips Off the Old Brock), which I disown completely," Brock told The Times today. "New readers will probably prefer to think of it as 'Chips That Pass in the Night'."

On that disquieting note, we suggest that readers old and new turn to page 4.

U.K. Labor Hits Malan Race Policy

Churchill Asked To Intercede

MARGATE, Kent, Eng., Sept. 3 (CP)—Britain's powerful Trades Union Congress demanded today that Prime Minister Churchill intercede in South Africa to gain the release of labor leaders and end racial discrimination there.

By a unanimous vote, the 900 delegates who represent 8,000,000 British workers passed a resolution condemning the policies of South Africa's Prime Minister, Daniel F. Malan.

The resolution called upon the general council, executive body of the T.U.C., to "make the strongest possible protest to Dr. Malan, and also to our own government, with a view to obtaining the release of our colleagues, and an end to all racial discrimination."

Malan's apartheid (racial-segregation) policies, the resolution said, are "a complete denial of the declaration of human rights adopted by the United Nations to which the British government were signatories."

Malan, a sworn enemy of the British Labor Party, has repeatedly threatened to break away from the Commonwealth and seek a South African republic if British criticism of his regime does not abate.

The T.U.C., backbone of the Labor Party, is mapping its policies in the annual convention this week. Decisions here will serve as a basis for the Labor Party's platform for returning to power when the party meets in its annual convention later this month.

Percy Belcher of the Tobacco Workers' Union, who moved the resolution, said its approval "is bound to have a big influence on future events inside Africa."

$150,000 Fire In Garage at Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 3.—A $150,000 fire Tuesday afternoon destroyed Chatwin Motors garage building, and five new and nine used cars.

It is believed to have started in the paint shop of the garage. Firemen confined their efforts to saving the adjacent Arlington Hotel and an auto body shop, since there was no hope of saving the flaming building.

The fire spread so quickly that William Chatwin, proprietor, ordered his 18 employees to safety without bothering with their personal effects.

Accountant David Seath, however, saved some of the more important ledgers, and a few cars were removed just ahead of the flames.

Loggers Killed

DUNCAN, B.C., Sept. 3 (BUP)—Two loggers were electrocuted at noon today while working along the right-of-way of the B.C. Power Commission high tension line, three miles east of Duncan.

The victims were identified as Lloyd F. Braithwaite, 32, of Duncan, and Bert Leakey, 50, also of Duncan. Both were married.

Police said the accident occurred before noon when the men were raising a steel pole to begin loading logs aboard a truck. The pole came in contact with the high tension wire and they died instantly.

The disturbance quickly ended when the provost marshal called out all unit commanders from the camp and transport to return the men to barracks.

Main damage was caused to windows, show cases and booths of the Buffalo Cafe. Adjoining buildings suffered minor damage. No one was reported injured seriously although a few members of the provost were "roughed up."

Monday marked the end of exercise Buffalo III at the Wainwright camp, culminating a rigorous five-month summer training program for the Korea-bound troops.

When the exercise ended, some 1,000 troops were given leave and most came into Wainwright, 130 miles southeast of Edmonton.

An army spokesman said that the town's restaurants soon became overcrowded. The owners, realizing they would be unable to accommodate the great numbers of soldiers, locked their doors.

The owner of the Buffalo Cafe later opened his doors to allow customers inside to leave. Soldiers then attempted to crowd in. Three scuffles started among the soldiers themselves and this soon developed into a melee.

The army spokesman said charges may be laid against the men who participated in the riot.

St. Laurent to Continue At Liberal Party's Helm

Piper Meets His Prime Minister

It was imported from Scotland—but it has become a traditional Canadian welcome for visiting dignitaries, so the ceremonial wall of the pipes has greeted Prime Minister St. Laurent at many of his B.C. stops. Here he is shown shaking hands with Pipe Major Gordon Halcrow of Penticton after his arrival at Penticton airport.

British Columbia was still a British colony. Another was Chief Louis of Inkampep, sporting a Mexican hat and a cherry red shirt. After shaking hands with the prime minister, the chief, taking a chew of tobacco said "He's the swellest guy I ever met. I'll punch any one in the nose who says he isn't."

Crackdown On Private Use of Cars

A crackdown on civil servants who use provincial government cars for private purposes is being planned by British Columbia's new government.

It was learned today a special three-man cabinet committee has been appointed to investigate the situation and recommend a solution.

Members of the committee are Public Works Minister Philip A. Gagliardi, Finance Minister, Einar Gunderson and Labor Minister Lyle Wicks.

Many civil servants, anticipating the outcome of the committee's investigation, have already ceased taking government cars home.

Queried on the issue today, Works Minister Gagliardi said: "The public has demanded that the situation be investigated. There apparently is a public feeling that there is misuse of government cars by civil servants. We intend to investigate the matter and find out the answer."

Vancouver Statement Indicates He'll Stay

Compiled From CP and UP Dispatches

Prime Minister St. Laurent indicated in Vancouver today that providing his health holds he is prepared to lead the Liberal Party again in the next federal election.

The Prime Minister's answer to a question that has been intriguing the nation for months came at a press conference when he was asked directly if he planned to continue in the leadership.

"I hope my health will continue to be such that it will be the right thing to do," replied the 70-year-old government leader.

But when the election will be the Prime Minister was non-committal.

He said, "You gentlemen know as well as I do that an election can be held on 60 days' notice, but ability to hold an election and probabilities as to when it will be held may be quite different."

"You gentlemen also know that for the next 12 months we have a very busy program ahead."

Parliament meets a few weeks from now. Some time during the debate on the speech from the throne I will have to leave and go to the Prime Minister's meeting in London.

We will resume parliament after Christmas and then there is a very special ceremony a few months after that, the Coronation in London."

"With all these things on the calendar, I am not going to attempt to peer into the future and say what will take place in political events."

A reporter asked Mr. St. Laurent if an election this fall could be safely regarded as out of the question and the Prime Minister replied "I am not going to go beyond what I have said."

Valley Residents Turn Out En Masse

By HUMPHRY DAVY
Times Staff Reporter

SICAMOUS, B.C., Sept. 3.—Ogopogo, the legendary dweller in Lake Okanagan, was just about the only resident of this fertile valley who did not turn out to greet Louis St. Laurent as he visited Penticton, Summerland, Kelowna and Vernon.

At every stop on his "meet the people" tour, he was met by enthusiastic crowds of plain citizens, who elbowed public officials aside to shake his hand.

"He's the handsomest man I ever set eyes on," was the glowing compliment paid by Mrs. E. P. Ritchie of Penticton. And an Indian chief allowed he is "the swellest guy I ever met."

His visit to the Okanagan Valley marked the first time a Prime Minister ever visited this district. The late Prime Minister Mackenzie King once stopped over at Penticton when he was a member of the opposition some 30 years ago.

At Penticton, the Prime Minister was guest at a civic luncheon immediately on his arrival from Trail. He also addressed a gathering of over 1,000 at the town park.

He was met at the Penticton airport by Mayor William A. Rathbur, Judge M. M. Colquhoun and other civic and business leaders of the community. At the luncheon, he received from the Fruit Growers' Association, a silver basket containing some of the choicest peaches grown in the Okanagan. The presentation was made by little Linda King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. King.

The child was shy, but the prime minister soon had her at ease. He lifted her from the floor and hugged her. "You lovely little thing," he said. Linda blushed but finally responded by giving him a hug.

Later at Penticton Park where he spoke on Canada's future, the prime minister met several pioneers of the district. One was Mrs. R. B. White, 75, whose father served as a revenue officer when Greater Victoria's public school enrollment is up about 900 over what it was last year, municipal inspector J. F. K. English announced today.

Last year's enrollment was 11,860. This year's count is expected to be close to 12,760.

Initial count of heads made when children reported back to school Tuesday showed 12,511 in attendance. To this figure must be added the 250 children who were destined to attend the Oak Bay Junior High School, which remains unfinished.

These youngsters will report for school Friday morning at 9. They will be fitted into elementary schools on a shift basis until their own new school is ready.

These pupils are asked to report back to their old schools if they came last June from either Willows, Monterey or Margaret Jenkins. The few who attended Oaklands last year are to report to Willows.

1,000 Soldiers Locked Out of Town's Cafes

WAINWRIGHT, Alta., Sept. 3 (CP)—Sixteen Canadian soldiers of the Wainwright army camp near here are under military arrest following a riot in this northern Alberta town Monday night which resulted in $1,000 property damage.

At one point, when provost detailed to patrol the town were unable to cope with the situation, a town resident drove a fire truck to the scene and turned hoses on the soldiers.

The disturbance quickly ended when the provost marshal called out all unit commanders from the camp and transport to return the men to barracks.

Main damage was caused to windows, show cases and booths of the Buffalo Cafe. Adjoining buildings suffered minor damage. No one was reported injured seriously although a few members of the provost were "roughed up."

Veteran Ship Laid Up Month Earlier

C.P.S. Princess Maquinna felt every one of her 40 years Tuesday afternoon when she eased her aching hull in the inner harbor shortly after 4 p.m. To put it bluntly, she had run out of steam—and her last run on the West Coast ended a month sooner than had been expected. Her cargo today is being unloaded for storage, pending some alternative arrangement for delivery to West Coast ports. See story, Page 13. (Times Photo.)

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

In a widely circulated weekly that carries the feature, "The Perfect Squelch," a neat little story is presented purporting to indicate the difference between the Russian and American proletariat.

The Russian in the yarn expresses his conviction that mounted American police run down the workers and club them, that the workers are poorly paid and exploited. He wonders why the people don't rebel against their "harsh capitalist bosses."

After more of the same, the Russian says he and his people ask themselves when the revolution will come.

To that the American replies: "Maybe when they take all the workers' automobiles and television sets away from them."

You laugh and turn the page to the next cartoon. Then maybe you think again and wonder just what you were laughing at. The American's answer was nice and pat. It refuted adequately the Russian assumption that the American worker is poor and hungry. But it left a slightly uncomfortable feeling with you that the way of life of the North American continent is typified by an automobile and a television set.

There's absolutely nothing wrong with a shiny new car brightened by lots of chrome, nor with a set that brings you visually the events of the day plus high art and low comedy. At the same time you're not quite prepared to harbor the belief that such material possessions reflect the spirit of the individual's unalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Not So Essential

In this world there are millions of people who aspire to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—even if they don't phrase their aspirations in those terms—without thought of an automobile and a television set.

There's more than a remote possibility that they may come closer to the attainment of those rights without a car and video. Automobiles, by statistical reports, seem less likely to preserve life than to take it away. The purchase of them and TV sets frequently puts a man in thrall to the finance company, thereby restricting his liberty.

And if he has to depend on the flickering reproduction of TV programs, live or canned, for entertainment, he hasn't too many resources with which to build happiness.

You might think, a little sadly, of the new civilization Norman Lewis describes in "Dragon Apparent" which the west has introduced to a section of Indo-China. He pictures the distinguishing badge of success as possession of a new American car and draws the picture of a culture centred on the Indo-Chinese adaptation of a Hollywood cowboy.

It doesn't carry much conviction. There might have been something a little deeper, a little more substantial to hand on to what some people call underdeveloped countries than a new hydromatic model and a celluloid Gene Autry. Conceivably a few of the American philosophers might have been able to give the Indo-Chinese better direction for the road to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

A Little Too Similar

But is there much difference between that concept—assuming it to be authentic—and the suggestion that the American workers may rebel if their cars and television sets are taken from them?

Of course there are much finer concepts than a new car and a Hollywood cowboy gripping the spirits and molding the dreams of this continent. There are the St. United States and Johnny Ray, among other things. Still, you wonder, and your wondering is a little personal. The ideals south of the 49th Parallel aren't so different from those north of it—and will be ever less as more cars and more TV sets come off the production line.

You can visualize the developments. With that look of tomorrow rising in twisted metal above every North American roof, the mottoes that once adorned the walls of the North American living room will be revised and re-established in popularity. Instead of "God Bless Our Home," printed out in needlework, there'll be a more functional sign hanging above the television set: "Quiet Is Requested for Those Who Are Not Thinking."

Then the wisecrack in the American's response to the propaganda-fed Russian will assume a higher measure of truth. And it won't be necessary to pursue happiness. It will be delivered in job lots, courtesy of a laxative firm, and glimmer on the larger and truer screen which the family has just purchased.

RETURN TO TRADITION

Native Governors Prove Failure, Paper Suggests

MONTREAL, Sept. 3 (BUP).—

The conservative Montreal Gazette said today the appointment of British Field Marshal Sir William Slim as governor-general of Australia showed that maybe the appointment of native governors-general of Commonwealth countries wouldn't work.

Slim's appointment to succeed Sir William McKell, a boiler-maker by trade and Australia's second native-born governor-general, was announced Tuesday. The first Australian to become the crown's representative in that country, Sir Isaac A. Isaacs, was appointed on a Labor government's recommendation in 1931 but succeeded by an Englishman.

The Gazette, which was critical of Canada's departure from tradition when Vincent Massey became the Queen's representative in this country, said editorially that the selection of a native-born Australian as governor-general "by no means proved a happy departure, or one fully acceptable to the public or to various governments."

"The present Australian government," the Gazette added, "would seem determined not to have any repetition of such questionable and controversial appointments, which might pull the office of the Queen's representative into the arena of political argument."

"The choice of Sir William Slim, with his outstanding record in two world wars as a top officer who rose from the ranks, appears calculated to remain above question or political dispute."

Ike Welcomed In Foe Country

Democrats Wonder How Solid South Will Be In November; Adlai Works on Farm Speech

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, drawing huge crowds at every stop, today continued a spectacular sweep through Dixie that had Democrats wondering how solid the south will be in November.

The Republican presidential nominee was greeted by a turnout of 150,000 persons in Atlanta, Ga., Jacksonville and Miami, Fla., Tuesday. They responded to his tongue-lashing of the Democratic administration with cheers and rebel yells.

Eisenhower bore down hard on "the mess in Washington," demanded a complete change in party leadership—not "just a face or two"—and blamed what he called the "stumble, fumble and fall" administration for inflation.

Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, worked on the farm policy speech he is expected to make Saturday in Kassel, Minn.

Stevenson made no comment on charges by Republican Senator Everett M. Dirksen, of Illinois, Tuesday, that the Democratic candidate's own state government was corrupt and needed cleaning up.

Stevenson's aides said his policy would be to concentrate on "getting the country acquainted with his views" on major issues, to ignore Republican attacks, and to let President Truman defend the Democratic administration.

Truman, back in Washington after a successful nine-stop whistle-stop tour, seemed only too eager to accept this role.

The president's speeches Tuesday bore all the flavor of his successful 1948 campaign addresses. He said Republican masterminds were using "cruel, gutter politics" in raising false hopes in Iron Curtain countries; he called Eisenhower a "spokesman for selfish politicians" who were willing to risk atomic war with Russia just to win votes.

UNEXPECTED DRAMA
Two primaries Tuesday developed unexpected drama: In Nevada, Senator Pat McCarran apparently suffered a political setback. Tom Meachling, 31, former Washington, D.C., newspaperman who was laughed at by old-time Nevadans when he filed for the Democratic senatorial nomination, early today was leading Alan Bible, 42, strongly backed by McCarran.

The winner will meet the incumbent, Republican Sen. George Malone, in November. In Louisiana, the oldest member of the state's famous Long dynasty was leading in a Democratic run-off primary for U.S. representative. In traditionally Democratic Louisiana, victory in this race usually means election.

The Victoria Kiwanis Club is the group behind the plan. It is the club's intention to have the sign on Belleville Street, telling incoming visitors what clubs function here, when and where they meet.

"The City Council's public works committee, which will be asked to supply a plot for the sign, have agreed to the proposal in principle, but want to see a sketch of the sign before giving formal endorsement."

CONGRESSMAN CRITICIZES U.N. EFFORT

TOKYO, Sept. 3 (AP)—A United States congressman said today he considers the Korean war "an American matter."

Representative Overton Brooks (Dem., La.), member of the House of Representatives' armed services committee, told a press conference that basic military decisions in Korea are made by the U.S. and "I prefer to think of this as an American matter." Brooks implied he thought other United Nations members should be playing a heavier role.

Asked if his comments on the extent of U.N. participation in the Korean fighting implied criticism of Allied countries, Brooks said they did, but added he was speaking personally. Brooks is chairman of an appropriations sub-committee touring U.S. Far Eastern bases.

Grand Jury Sifts Through Oil Firm Data

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—A Federal Grand Jury seeking evidence of an alleged international oil monopoly assembled today to start sifting through the records of major petroleum operators.

The Grand Jury inquiry was organized at the request of Attorney-General James P. McGranery, who said a justice department investigation indicated that seven large companies dominate the world oil market.

The government has subpoenaed the records of 21 large oil companies for Grand Jury examination. Most have responded with the requested data. Some, including Standard Oil of California, have obtained extensions of time.

Others, led by Standard Oil of New Jersey, are resisting the subpoenas. Their motion of withdrawal is set for Sept. 10.

The Federal Trade Commission, in a report recently made public by a senate committee, said seven companies had collaborated to divide world markets and fix prices.

Richard Albert Brooke, Hockley Road, Langford, was fined a total of $85 in provincial police court at Colwood for two driving offenses. He pleaded guilty to dangerous driving and was fined $35. He pleaded the same to a charge of operating a vehicle while his license was under suspension and got a further $50 fine, plus costs.

IF POSSIBLE—DITCH PLANES IN SEA

Communists Said Shooting, Killing, Helpless U.S. Airmen

ABOARD U.S.S. BOXER, off Korea, Sept. 3, (UP)—Communist ground troops have shot and killed helpless American pilots parachuting into North Korea from disabled planes, a navy squadron leader said today.

The navy warned its pilots they may be targets for enemy small arms fire if they bail out. It advised them to ditch their planes in the sea if possible.

"One of my friends was hit before he reached the ground in a parachute," said Lieut.-Cmdr. Ward S. Miller of Santa Rosa, Calif., leader of the 63rd Corsair squadron on the carrier U.S.S. Boxer.

"The helicopter that went in to rescue him found him full of bullets. The parachute was bloody and full of bullet holes. He hadn't moved after his parachute hit the ground."

"I know of one other case just like that and I've heard of several others."

"We don't know whether it's Chinese of North Koreans or both that are doing it. I've heard that the Chinese are a little nicer to prisoners than North Koreans."

"But you can't be too surprised about it. We bring those people a lot of grief in our attacks. After all, the Japanese and Germans did it in the last war. It sounds like a terrible thing, but a lot of things are terrible."

Miller was the only pilot shot down on the Sulho power plant raid on the Yalu River near Manchuria last June.

"I was afraid to bail out," he said, "so I rode the plane down and crashed. I was picked up soon and it was a good thing. The flak had cut my neck and legs and I was burned in several places."

Split Advocated In Justice Post

Bar Association President Sees Portfolio
Divided Between Commons and Upper House

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 3 (BUP)—J. A. Clark, president of the Canadian Bar Association, suggested today that the present minister of justice portfolio be split to permit an attorney-general to be a cabinet minister with a minister of justice appointed to the Senate.

Clark told the 34th annual convention of the association that at present, the minister of justice fills both posts. He said "there is a natural division of duties between these offices. My thought is that the attorney-general should be a member of the House of Commons and be responsible for legislation and the political activities of the office, and that the minister of justice be appointed to the Senate acting as speaker of that body and devoting special attention to the judiciary and the administration of justice."

Clark renewed his demand for a formula that would enable the minister of justice to select those best qualified for judicial vacancies as and when they occur. He cited the situation in British Columbia, whereby the provincial attorney-general must consult with the chief justice of British Columbia and the chief justice of the Supreme Court and two members of the Law Society of British Columbia before an appointment is made.

"While I believe this procedure has had the effect of abolishing the patronage system in the appointment of Queen's Counsel in British Columbia," Clark said, "and would be most helpful to the minister of justice and the government of Canada if adopted in relation to the judiciary, I do not consider it the only effective formula. I believe the convention which existed in the United Kingdom at the time of Confederation of making appointments on the recommendation of the prime minister in certain instances, and of the lord chancellor in other instances, without reference to the cabinet, could be equally effective and would meet the minister's (Justice Minister Stuart Garson's) condition that the constitutional responsibility of appointing judges should not be abdicated."

Clark said he does not believe that public service should disqualify a man from an appointment to the bench. Under the present system in this country, judges are appointed by the Governor-General-in-Council, meaning cabinet approval.

The association president said "no section of the British North America Act suggests that an order-in-council is necessary in the appointment of judges." Clark added that "on the other hand, the letters patent creating the office of governor-general expressly empower the governor-general to appoint the judges. Obviously it was never intended that the matter should be passed up to the cabinet but rather that the appointment should be made on the advice of the appropriate minister and that the great seal should thereupon be affixed to the judge's patent."

New Kamloops Catholic Bishop Named

OTTAWA, Sept. 3 (BUP)—The appointment of the Right Reverend H. A. Harrington as Bishop of Kamloops, B.C., was announced today by Archbishop Hildenbrand Antoniutti, Apostolic delegate to Canada.

Monsignor Harrington, appointed by Pope Pius XII, was in charge of the parish of St. Basil's, Lethbridge, Alta., before his transfer to Kamloops where he succeeds Bishop E. Q. Jennings.

Bishop Jennings recently was installed as first bishop of the newly erected diocese of Fort William, Ont.

Harrington was born at Killaloe, Ont., in the diocese of Pembroke. He received his education in Egansville, Ont., St. Alexander's College, Ottawa; St. Jerome's College, Kitchener, Ont., and St. Augustine's Seminary, Toronto.

'Poor' Farouk Said To Own £9,000,000 Worth of Property

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 3 (AP)—The Pro-Wafd newspaper Al-Misri quoted custodians of former King Farouk's holdings today as saying the exiled Egyptian monarch owns about £9,000,000 worth of property abroad and needs no financial aid from Egypt.

The amount of cash Farouk may have on deposit outside Egypt is not known, but it has been estimated as high as £1,000,000.

Farouk told reporters after he arrived on the Isle of Capri to begin his exile last July that he was a comparatively poor man. He said he had not taken a fortune out of Egypt and had no fortune stored up outside his native land.

The exiled king's vast holdings in Egypt—estimates of their value have run as high as £2,000,000,000—were ordered impounded last month by the reform government that kicked him off his throne.

VALLEY RESIDENTS TURN OUT

around to shake hands with the prime minister.

Here, Rene Gauthie, a native of France now living in Barhead, Alta., stopped the prime minister and addressed him in French. The prime minister, an almost perfect bi-lingualist, replied in the same language.

"You have certainly kept up your French accent," said Mr. St. Laurent.

On the way to Kelowna, his escorts told the prime minister of Ogopogo, the monster who residents claim frequents the waters of Lake Okanagan. "I only wish Ogopogo would show his head to make this day perfect," said Frank Guilmont, who escorted the prime minister from Penticton to Kelowna. "Then we would really see something."

At Kelowna, the prime minister was met by Maj.-Gen. E. L. Keller and Mayor J. J. Ladd. A band was also in attendance.

He was presented with a mixed basket of Okanagan fruit by Kathleen Archibald, named "lady of the lake" for the annual regatta celebrations this summer. At Vernon a large crowd was NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 3 (AP)—Fire swept through the Norwegian freighter Hopeville early today and the Coast Guard said two men were killed and four burned.

The fire raged for two hours before it was extinguished by equipment from Norfolk, the Coast Guard, the navy and the Hampton Roads port of embarkation.

The dead were not immediately identified. Three of the four injured, taken to hospital here, were identified as Arne Olson, Arthur Olson, 22, and Peter Hester, 17.

The premier was accompanied on his tour of the Okanagan Valley by Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, O. L. Jones, M.P. for Yale, and other officials from Penticton.

Maher was reported missing August 21 this year. He had been an employee of the Moore-Whittington mill.

Relatives are being sought by police.

SHORTER WORK WEEK MAY BE LEWIS' AIM

Miners' Leader,
Industry Parley

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—John L. Lewis may give some indication today of what new work or pay benefits he wants for his 75,000 hard-coal miners.

Representatives of Lewis' United Mine Workers and of the United States Anthracite Industry resume talks this afternoon on a new contract to replace one expiring Sept. 10. Unless a new agreement is reached by the end of this month, Lewis may call a strike of his hard-coal diggers, as well as 400,000 soft-coal miners.

CLEAR WAY FOR STRIKE

The U.M.W. chief notified the industry more than a month ago that he would end existing contracts within 30 days. He also moved to clear the way legally for a strike by notifying the federal mediation conciliation service that the contracts may expire.

SHORTER WORK-WEEK

Thus far the union chief has given no indication publicly as to what he wants in new agreements. There have been reports that he plans to ask the operators for a shorter work week in order to spread work in the coalfields more evenly. Lack of jobs recently has cut the average miner's work-week to less than four days.

There also have been reports that Lewis plans to ask a boost in the royalty of 30 cents a ton of coal that his union collects for its health and welfare fund.

The talks were resumed today just 24 hours after most of the nation's coal miners returned to work from a 10-day mourning period for victims of mine tragedies.

However, the memorial holiday was extended in western Pennsylvania, eastern Kentucky and Tennessee when thousands of miners refused to resume work. Currently the miners average $2.25 an hour.

Ontario Signs Up

THE DECISION OF THE ONTARIO government to rent its corporation and personal income tax fields to the federal government, along with eight other provinces, vindicates the wisdom of this almost nationwide agreement. It leaves only Quebec outside the agreement where it probably will not remain much longer. And it finally repudiates, by the action of a Conservative government in Ontario, the long vendetta which Mr. Drew has conducted against the federal government's policy.

Mr. Drew attacked the taxation agreement when he was premier of Ontario, and afterwards, mainly for political reasons. He used the agreement as a handy club to beat the federal government. But Mr. Frost, Mr. Drew's successor in Ontario, is a very different sort of man. He refused to put Conservative politics above the welfare of his province. He could not deny the figures which showed that, by remaining outside the taxation agreement, Ontario was losing large sums of money which it could secure through federal subsidies.

So, after a decent lapse of time—not to embarrass Mr. Drew unnecessarily—Mr. Frost has followed all the other provinces, save Quebec, into the agreement. Out of the mouth of a Conservative premier in the largest province the persistent Conservative condemnation of federal policy is rejected, a Liberal policy is accepted and local politics have given way to sound economic facts.

The federal government has thus received, except in the case of Quebec, that complete control of corporation and income tax which it considers essential if it is to finance the vast public services of the nation and to manage its economy. But the immediate effect of the new agreement with Ontario is to raise the federal budget.

When Economists Disagree

LAST SPRING THE ECONOMISTS OF the United States and Canadian governments concluded that the peak of inflation had been safely passed. Mr. Howe, always the optimist, announced that the old enemy had been beaten. The cost-of-living index had dropped somewhat, the wholesale price level, the governing factor in retail prices, was substantially lower than in 1951.

Accordingly, the governments in both countries relaxed their former policies of deflation by abandoning all restrictions on installment buying and thus encouraging the public to buy more goods than it could immediately pay for.

The results of this change in policy now appear. In the United States installment debt has reached the record level of $14.4 billion, a gigantic amount. In the brief period of seven weeks after the restrictions were removed the American people contracted new debts of $2.6 billion and these charges against future income are still growing. The panic buying which followed the outbreak of the Korean war has not returned but the total demand for goods has steadily increased this year and inevitably tends to bid up prices.

Another large factor is now at work—the government's own demand for goods has reached an all-time high for peacetime as the rearmament program at last hits its stride. Expenditures on defense are now running at the rate of about $4 billion a month, roughly an increase of 50 per cent since last year. The money thus spent by the state goes into the hands of individuals who spend it but those individuals, in doing the essential work of defense, are not producing any goods which they or anyone else can consume.

Hence between the increased buying of public and government the total demand for goods is again outstripping the supply, so far by a small fraction, but that fraction could grow during the next year as defense spending continues to rise to a peak in 1953 and the record money income of the people is spent.

Caution Paid Off on Our Highways

NEWS SERVICES, IN THEIR ORDINARY post-holiday check-ups, have listed the grim toll of Labor Day weekend deaths in Canada and the United States. In this country 70 persons lost their lives, 37 in traffic fatalities. Car accidents claimed fewer Canadian victims on a per capita basis than American. In the United States 403 of 524 fatalities from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday were attributable to highway smashups.

Some meagre satisfaction is derived by U.S. authorities from the fact that the toll was lighter than had been anticipated. The weather factor—keeping many potential motorists indoors—was believed to have played its part in reducing the total.

On lower Vancouver Island no fatalities.

Blight by the Roadside

MOST PEOPLE, WE THINK, WILL agree that the new chemical spray used on the weeds and brush beside our Island highways this year has greatly damaged the beauty of the landscape.

This treatment does not kill only the growth that must be removed to give the motorist a safe range of vision. It seems to kill almost any living thing it touches, often quite far from the road. It has killed many fine young trees. It has killed the branches of older trees. As a result, many of the highways are now disfigured by dead vegetation which looks as if it had suffered from some hideous blight. The green life of our Island forests is marked with the depressing touch of death.

Presently the dead brown leaves of maple, alder and willow will fall to the ground and then an army of black skeletons will stand by the roadside. They will present an ugly sight and a

Without going into the complex figures it can be seen that the federal government will pay more in subsidies to Ontario than it will gain in revenues. Exactly how much the federal budget will be raised on this account has not been revealed but the increase will be substantial, and still larger if Quebec follows Ontario's change in policy, as Quebec probably will do, now that the old Drew-Duplessis axis has been broken by Mr. Frost.

In British Columbia the Conservative party has been fond of sniping at the taxation agreement as unjust to this province, though no politician in his senses would suggest that British Columbia withdraw from the agreement and start collecting its own income tax on top of the federal tax. It was a dispute arising out of the renewal of the agreement this year that broke up the former coalition government here.

Mr. Anscomb was never tired of blaming the federal government for its allegedly tyrannical treatment of British Columbia and using this argument to support Mr. Drew's politics at Ottawa. When the Conservative government of Ontario repudiates Mr. Drew and accepts the federal government's offer, when only Mr. Duplessis remains outside the agreement, cutting off Quebec's nose to spite its face, it will be impossible any longer for British Columbia politicians to condemn the existing policy as unfair treatment of the provinces by a grasping federal government.

The provinces have received generous treatment from Ottawa, as even Mr. Frost now admits. The ground has been cut from under the feet of local politicians who promoted a parish-pump feud between the provinces and the national government and the unity of the whole nation will be greatly strengthened thereby.

Yet no two economists seem to agree on the price prospects. The official version of the Truman Government is that prices may rise a little in the next twelve months but that nothing dangerous will happen. When Mr. Ellis Arnall, the former price administrator, announced that a large inflationary spiral was under way he was bitterly attacked by the government's other experts as an alarmist. But a neutral observer of eminence, Mr. Bernard Baruch, comes from Europe to say that he is shocked to find that in his absence the inflationary fire has been largely stoked by government fiscal policy and he is appalled by the virtual breakdown of the flimsy, superficial system of price controls.

Mr. Baruch calls the present situation "legalized inflation," meaning that it stems out of government policy. So it does—gigantic public expenditure, which is only a demand for goods, inadequate taxes to balance this spending, easy credit, more money in circulation than goods.

In an election campaign, however, the actual facts of this situation, even if the economists could agree on them, will not be given to the public.

The Democratic administration will do everything possible to reassure the public that its pocket book is in no danger, that the government has everything under control. The Republicans will attack the government for failing to cure inflation but they will hardly dare to propose the unpleasant remedies which alone can hope to cure the disease.

For all its sound and fury an election campaign is bound to be a kind of twilight sleep so far as basic economic issues are concerned. That sleep will end at the first of 1953 when the new government and legislature will no longer be concerned with votes but with actual figures—figures that no nation can escape since the United States economy dominates the economy of the entire free world. By the year's end, by next spring at least, we should know whether last spring's optimism was justified or not.

ties of the conventional highway crash type were reported. And in this area bright sunshine brought out an unusually high number of drivers.

By the exercise of caution and by good fortune, car riders in this area escaped the fate of 37 citizens in other parts of Canada, and of 403 in the United States.

There is no ground for complacency in this fortunate situation. The picture could have been changed by one wild or heedless person at the wheel of a car. The fact remains, however, that heavy traffic need not necessarily result in highway death. Continued cautious driving can help to prove that point—a point, incidentally, that is emphasized by the operation of the new highway patrol system functioning from Duncan south.

sure fire hazard for the motorist who throws cigarettes out the window.

In time, the public is told, all the brush will disappear from the road margin and will be replaced by an attractive carpet of grass. That may be so but we doubt it. The indigenous growth of our Island, in forested areas, is not grass. It is trees and brush of many species.

The excellent officials who are giving British Columbia a fine new highway system as rapidly as money permits undoubtedly think that the chemical killer now in use will justify itself in time, and they think also that it will save some money by reducing the labor of keeping the road margins clear. We hope they are right about that but in the meantime they are impairing the appearance of many roads to the regret of our own people and the disappointment of tourists. Is this really necessary?

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

THE CURTAIN has been lowered to denote the lapse of two months. As I was saying when I left you at the end of June... what was I saying? I forgot.

Nothing about parting being such a sweet sorrow, anyhow, for that phrase never made sense to me even before I got sick of it. In any event, it is nice to be back again. And it's nice to be missed (as the pitcher remarked after a no-hit game).

It has been a most frustrating summer. Each time I ran across something quotable or edible or potable or incredible, I said "Boy, wait till I tell them this. They'll never believe me." For it is twice as much fun to tell people true things they won't believe as it is to tell them fibs they are sure to swallow. With the fibs, it is not only child's play, but you have to laugh secretly, which gives you indigestion. Whereas with the strict truth, the harder you laugh, the less you are believed.

But each time I made a mental note of something to tell you, I was unable to do anything about it. And as I have the knack of forgetting memorable things faster than dull ones, these items have now been swallowed up in the depths of time.

NOT THAT the summer has been a complete blank, my hearties. Which is more than you can say of many a summer. For example, I can remember clear back into the first week in July, when my Missus was in hospital. She found the nurses were sometimes wrong about mail collections, and the mail collections were pretty random ones at that, so that it took letters a long, long time to find their way out of that labyrinth and into Her Majesty's mails.

But being on the ground floor, she was able to accost strangers out in the hospital garden, and she instructed them to post her letters as quickly as they found it convenient. If nobody was in the grounds, she just threw the letters out the window anyway, and they soon vanished. And they all reached their goal.

There is something charming about this picture... the confident innocence of my Missus, and the obliging honesty and kindness of most humans. Most humans in contact with hospitals, anyhow. Oddly enough, most of my friends don't believe this story, but it is true enough. The rest think my wife must be nearly as crazy as I am, which is impossible.

AND I remember looking after four children, plus their meals and the housework, while my wife was away... and after she got home, too. Most of it is now a merciful blur, but some of it sticks in the old mind.

Just before their mother got home, I noticed the house and garden were getting pretty untidy, and the children also. And their manners and things, too. Pulling myself together, I said "Look here, troops, when your mother gets home, things'll have to be different. You must reform your speech, dress, bedrooms, ablutions, and play-house. Otherwise, she'll wonder why she ever left the good old hospital, in spite of its cookery."

They were suitably impressed. The youngest (7) said "Yes, when she gets home it will be just like a bomb falling on us." It was said affectionately, mind you. But all the same... nevertheless... well, it's not the kind of thing one is allowed to say in exactly those terms.

THERE ARE also several things I'd like to forget, and can't. Such as the broadcast portion of the Vancouver Theatre Under the Stars opera, "Timber!" Somebody asked me if I had attended the actual show itself, and I said I hadn't, and he said I had missed a fine experience, and I said the reason I missed it was because I AM experienced. This made him cross, but that's all right, it was meant to. I have just looked up the word "opera" and I see it means "labor, pains, a work produced." That's got it three ways.

"Timber!" sounded like a work produced, sure enough. And it gave me pains. And it would be real labor for an Italian to sit through it. And if you call it a musical comedy instead of a light opera, you're still belting the old language around.

Let me make this clear: anyone who wants to remember it with pleasure has every right to do so. I merely said I want to forgive and forget and let bygones be forever darkened my ears again.

TALKING OF THE Theatre Under the Stars, an unkind pal of mine so far forgot himself as to disagree that a certain soprano in the company had any kind of voice. Whereupon her friends and admirers said she was a very hard little worker indeed, with pep, enthusiasm, and any amount of grit. Which wasn't his point, exactly, and he went home and wrote:

ON A TUTS SOPRANO
Her voice is loud without being strong
And anything but pretty.
But she has grit, unless I'm wrong:
Even her voice is gritty.

This sort of petulance and disloyalty can do the theatre no good, so I am doing everything I can to forget that little lampoon, too. So far, I have tried in vain.

THERE IS a theory, common in Egypt and Geneva and McGill University and places like that, which holds that if a tiny speechless baby hears a naughty word, it will fester in his mind for life. I'm like that with lampoons... as Mr. Browning said, "Ah, old thoughts, they cling, they cling."

And so much for my report on my two months' absence. Absence may not make the heart grow fonder, but it certainly makes the wife go wander, as I am the first to admit. But I see I am living in the past, and that's a bad, bad thing.

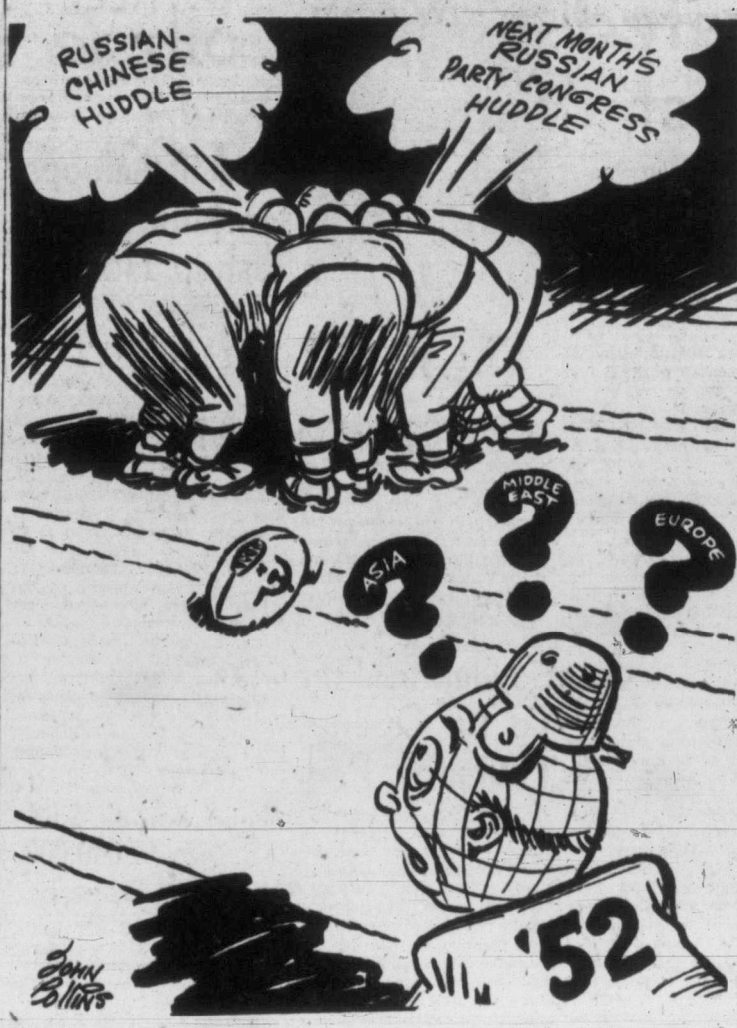

Not So Smart

Windsor Star

One of the problems in urban centres is provided by groups of young men who hang around street corners and make a nuisance of themselves. They get in the way of pedestrians, leer at women and, sometimes, are nasty and lewd in their remarks.

It would be interesting to have a psychiatrist analyze their minds—or what passes for the minds of some of them. Presumably they think they are smart with their remarks and their antics.

PARK LIGHTS

Having just returned from a very pleasant holiday spent in your attractive environment, I would like to offer some constructive comment on a movie-picture gathering we attended one Thursday evening (Aug. 21) held in Beacon Hill Park.

My wife and I left about 10 p.m. when the program was just well started, but I felt sorry for any strangers, handicapped as to proper direction due to darkness and surrounding trees and would suggest some illumination to indicate proper route would be something worthwhile before any violent incident arises to make such steps compulsory. Trusting this suggestion is accepted in the spirit given.

LIQUOR QUESTION

Apropos of the opinion expressed by "Hopeful" in your issue August 17 relative to your leader, August 13. In my humble opinion, said leader was a clear-cut analysis of the liquor question, precise and to the point.

Pertaining to the setting up of a royal commission, most assuredly it does not require the setting up a costly commission to frame a sane liquor act.

For example, Joe Doe goes to the Government Liquor Store with the coin of the realm purchasing liquor from the vendor in good faith. Lo and behold if the gentlemen in blue catch Joe drinking the product in the street or in a public building for which at the time and place Joe bought with intent from the vendor, he is hauled into court and pays a fine of $50, or is sentenced to a month in jail. Thereby, Joe Doe is made a criminal through the vendor's insane liquor act.

Whereas one can drive a car through a stop sign and maim a fellow citizen for life and be discharged by paying a fine of $25. To my mind the law does not make sense. Surely the foregoing denotes there is a truism in the quotation of the Cockney, namely, "The law is an ass."

Far too long has the liquor question been made a political football for the purpose of catching votes.

In conclusion, it is past one's comprehension to understand why "Hopeful," providing he is sincere and has the courage of his convictions, found it essential to write under a nom de plume.

OLYMPIC HOPES

What is the matter with the Victoria publicity bureau? They seem to be asleep at the well-known switch.

Here we have a controversy raging over where the next British Empire Games rowing should be held, some holding out for Burnaby Lake, adjacent to Vancouver, while the chairman of the games facilities committee, Col. Swan, is looking over the possibilities of holding such sports at Kelowna. Kelowna may be the location but we must remember the games belong to no one section of this province and surely Vancouver Island deserves at least the courtesy of a survey.

There is Shawinigan Lake which has the clear water area. The C.P.R. could be induced to put their Sidney-Steveston ferry back on the run and they would or should be only too anxious to increase the Nanaimo traffic or put an extra one into Ladysmith, for at least while water sports are being contested.

It is all very well to cite Vancouver as the logical centre, being the main metropolis for much of these competitions, but Vancouver Island is entitled to some consideration, least of all it is worth fighting for.

We cannot ignore the fact there will be a great many American visitors and the Island resort is possibly more readily reached via Victoria than would be Kelowna—at least there would be just as many tourists able to reach the Island as Interior B.C. centres.

Come on Claude and Waldo, shake some of the moss off these publicity bureau officials and increase your already popular esteem among Vancouver Islanders.

Tax Deduction

Edmonton Journal

The whole arrangement needs to be revised to give a better break to families with a newborn child. At present, a parent loses the whole year's deduction if he has received only one or two months' family allowances. This should be changed to provide that the deduction in any one year will be reduced only by the amount of the payments actually received under the family allowance scheme.

The months just preceding a child's birth and the ones immediately following it are the time when the parents usually have the heaviest expenses, and most need aid. Yet this, under existing legislation, is just when they are given the least consideration.

The peculiar mix-up between income tax and family allowances is certainly not the result of deliberate government policy. Probably, careless draftsmanship, for which federal statutes and orders-in-council have long been notorious, is to blame.

Incidents of this kind are bound to continue until the department of justice engages competent legal draftsmen, who can put the laws of the country into intelligible form, without absurdities, omissions or contradictions.

Battle Inside The Party

BY JOSEPH ALSOP, from New York

THE profound national issue that goes by the name of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy has now come close to producing an open break in the ranks of the Republican party. Because of the McCarthy issue, the Wisconsin Republican organization has bluntly asked Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to cancel a planned and much desired speaking date at Milwaukee on September 5. And the general has acceded to this astonishing request.

The immediate background is simple enough. In brief, three compromise measures were offered to the Wisconsin Republican leader, Tom Coleman, who was Sen. Robert A. Taft's mid-western manager. These three measures now rejected, were as follows:

First, Coleman's man, the Wisconsin state chairman, Wayne Hood, was named executive director of the Republican National Committee when the committee was reorganized under Eisenhower's leadership. This was intended to assure the Wisconsin Republican organization that it would be fully recognized at all times by Gen. Eisenhower.

Second, Gen. Eisenhower took his position on McCarthy personally. Gen. George C. Marshall, whom McCarthy has accused of treason to the United States, stands almost in a father's relationship to Gen. Eisenhower. Gen. Eisenhower could not ignore these facts in honor and it would have been politically idiotic to try. Hence, the general denounced the McCarthy attack on Marshall, and came out strongly against the character assassination and witch-hunting which are now, understandably, summed up under the heading of "McCarthyism."

But having done these things, Gen. Eisenhower also said that he would support McCarthy if the latter was duly renominated for the Senate by the Wisconsin Republicans.

Third, to avoid any further endorsement of McCarthy, Gen. Eisenhower planned to do his speaking in Wisconsin while the Senatorial primary there was still going on. With a hot primary contest in full swing, it would have been obviously improper for the general to choose between the contestants.

NO PRECEDENT

The man who brought the word that these conciliatory measures were not good enough—who in fact requested Gen. Eisenhower not to come to Wisconsin—was none other than Wayne Hood, Eisenhower's own appointee to the important National Committee executive post. There is no recent precedent for this kind of open flouting of a presidential nominee by one of his own subordinates representing a state organization.

The Wisconsin story is all of one piece, however, with other recent signs and portents. Col. Robert R. McCormick, owner of the Illinois Republican machine, has now called for the formation of an "American party," presumably to serve the Republican party as a sort of political septic tank, just as Henry Wallace's Progressives served the Democratic party in 1948. Certain former supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft are trying to run ex-Rep. Hamilton Fish, of all people, as the American party's Senate candidate in New York, to defeat the capable Republican, Irving Laves.

Finally, Sen. Taft himself has been asking Gen. Eisenhower to surrender to him on several basic issues, as the condition of Taft's active support of the Republican national ticket. Early reports of this unorthodox and highly un-Republican activity of "Mr. Republican" have been formally denied. None the less, the reports were and are wholly correct.

It should not be difficult for Gen. Eisenhower to reassure Sen. Taft about his stand on the Taft-Hartley Act. As for the other surrender terms, it is impossible to see how Gen. Eisenhower can accept Sen. Taft's views on policy.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TORIN

"THIS," said the Elevator Man, "is the age of newness. A thing isn't much good these days unless it's new. Advertisers spend millions explaining how new their products are. If it's new it's desirable. If it's old, who wants it? So all the accompaniments of newness become desirable too.

Shininess, smoothness, unscratched surfaces, bright nicked trimmings, gleaming paint—these are all necessary qualities now because they prove a thing is new. The trouble is, when these are your guides to quality, you can be fooled. The chrome trim may hide a pile of junk. The shiny surface may cover cobwebs and decay inside. The label with 'NEW' on it may refer only to the label. Going up?

"Of course," said the Elevator Man, "though you may be fooled you won't necessarily be cheated. Buying something old may mean that you're getting proven quality, real durability, real material in it like we got before the war." It may mean you got something built by a craftsman rather than a mechanic. It could mean that it has built into it pride and affection rather than just dollars-per-hour. That old fella in Kansas the other day might have had the right idea. He was in a shoe store when he saw another customer wearing a pair he liked. So he bought the worn shoes from the other man instead of a new pair. The new shine didn't overawe him. What he was after was quality and fit, and he found them in an old pair. Going down?

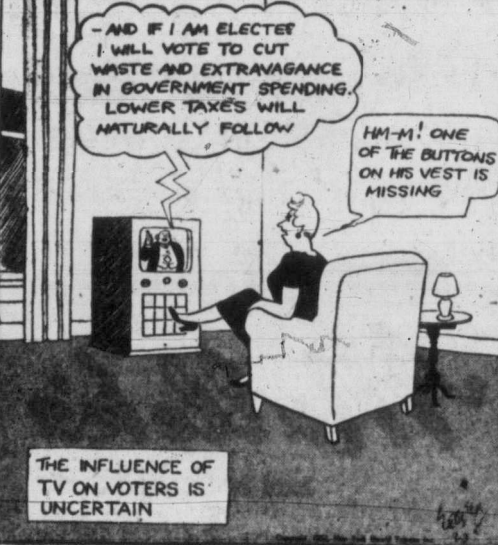

"The same thing," said the Elevator Man, "applies to ideas. We're always being asked to buy somebody's new idea these days, and some of them are worth buying, too. But if they're at the expense of old ideas they may not be such a bargain. When you want quality and fit in an idea you often have to go back to the old-timers, who developed their thoughts in the days when there was time to think. And you may find, too, that the new idea you've seen advertised was just an old one with a new label tacked on it."

Burial Service Here for John Oliver's Widow

VANCOUVER, Sept. 3 (CP)—Mrs. John Oliver, 93, widow of one of British Columbia's most colorful premiers, died Sunday.

Born Elizabeth Woodward at Mud Bay, Vancouver Island, she married John Oliver in 1886. He died in office in 1927 after being premier for nine years.

Funeral services will be held here Wednesday. Interment will be in Royal Oak Cemetery, Victoria, on Thursday.

The late Mrs. Oliver was well known in Victoria, where she resided for many years. A kindly and gracious hostess during the days of her husband's political acclaim, Mrs. Oliver had shared a long and adventurous life with him in pioneering times in British Columbia.

It was one of the delights of the former Liberal premier to tell of the struggle to reclaim salt marsh lands in the Delta basin, an epic in which he had a full part.

After his death Mrs. Oliver lived quietly in retirement here for a time, but with an ever-widening circle of friends.

College Night Study Planned

Sixteen courses are planned for the Evening Division of Victoria College this coming year.

An outline of subjects to be covered at the night classes was given today by the Victoria College Council.

The school intends to offer five regular college courses, which will carry full credits; three courses on business and industrial accounting, designed for persons intending to work toward R.I.A. certificates, and eight non-credit courses given for their cultural and informative value.

The credit courses will include three first-year and two second-year college subjects.

The first-year lectures will be English 100 and 101 (literature and composition); German 90 (for beginners), and Geography 101 (elementary physical geography).

Second-year subjects will be Economics 200 (principals of economics), and Mathematics 201.

The three courses in accountancy will be offered for members of the Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants of B.C. The courses to be given are the first credit subjects required by those seeking Registered Industrial and Cost Accountant certificates.

Non-credit courses will range from the study of music to office management practices.

Charles J. Guiguet, biologist at the Provincial Museum, will lecture every Tuesday evening on elementary ornithology. Iain Thorne, writer and director of radio and stage productions, will discuss theatrical arts to another group on Thursday evenings.

D. Boyce Gaddes, instructor of music at the Provincial Normal School, and Charles Palmer, pianist and organist, will take a class in musical heritage, combining lectures with concerts, and tracing the development of music since the Middle Ages.

These classes will be given on Thursday nights.

William R. Foster will be instructor at another Thursday evening course, dealing with principles of genetics, while John Lyons will hold classes the same night for those enrolled in the Great Books Leaders' training course.

Charles S. Burchill, assistant professor of history and economics at Royal Roads Service College, will lecture Wednesday nights on problems of Canadian democracy.

Two other Wednesday night courses will deal with office management and the study of stocks and bonds.

The first course will be sponsored by the Victoria chapter of the National Office Management Association, and the second by the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada.

Those wishing to take regular college courses for credit will be charged $36 for the term. Those wishing to take the courses as auditors, without credit, will pay $18. Free for other courses range from $5 to $45.

Those wishing further information or a syllabus should contact the Victoria College registrar.

Night classes will begin during the fourth week of the month. Some of the non-credit courses will run for only six weeks. Credit course will continue until May 1, 1953.

VIOLENCE RIDES BELOW

Civil War Feared
In South Africa

By PHIL NEWSOM

United Press Foreign News Editor

Violence rides just below the surface in the Union of South Africa.

This week passive disobedience. Next week a general strike. No one knows.

There is even a fear of civil war.

In one day last week 426 persons were arrested for violating the Union's "Jim Crow" laws separating whites from non-whites. Altogether, as result of a Gandhi-like campaign of disobedience against Premier Daniel Malan's racial segregation laws, more than 3,000 have been arrested.

On the one side are approximately 10,000,000 non-whites, mostly African and Indian, and on the other, some 2,000,000 persons of European extraction.

Beginning of the crisis was in Malan's policy of "apartheid"—racial segregation.

For years non-whites in the Union of South Africa have been barred from all but a minor part in public affairs.

Malan proposed, and rammed through parliament in June, 1951, a bill which struck persons of mixed nationality in Cape Province from the common electoral roll. It was the one province where their vote was guaranteed and it struck from the rolls some 38,000 voters.

Bill Ruled Null and Void

The South African Supreme Court ruled the bill null and void but Malan promptly set up a "high court of parliament" which in turn over-ruled the court. Thus Malan not only disenfranchised Union of South Africa voters, he also eliminated the courts from the system of governmental checks and balances.

Whatever party was in power could pass whatever legislation it chose, and make it stick.

The result has been a constitutional crisis whose roots go back far beyond "apartheid" to the Boer War and the ill-feeling between Britons and earlier Dutch and Hugenot settlers.

Boers still speak bitterly of British concentration camps in which they claim 25,000 Boer women and children died half a century ago.

Britons talk of starvation during Boer sieges.

Smuts Missed by United Party

Politically, Malan is opposed by the United Party which is backed by strong financial interests but misses its late great leader Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts.

Aligned with the United Party in opposition is the "Torch Commando" led by Battle of Britain hero Group Capt. Adolf (Sailor) Malan—no relation of the premier.

On the premier's side is the Broederbond—labelled by its critics as a Nazi machine, which has been able to push Malan's policies through parliament despite its slender majority.

Lions Rate as Pro Grid Threat

DETROIT, Sept. 3 (AP).—Sparked by quarterback Bobby Layne, Detroit Lions kept their 1952 national professional football league exhibition slate clean Tuesday night with a 33-17 win over New York Giants.

The win was number three for coach Buddy Parker's crew, rated as one of the stronger challenges.

It seems inevitable that sooner or later the large colored population will issue a direct challenge to the white population. With the latter at loggerheads within itself, the result could be civil war or worse.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

The advertisement read "Season's tickets for Cougars' games now on sale." ... yeah, it's only a month away, the opening of another hockey season, but except for the clink of cash on the till, it's as quiet as a church steeple in Cougarville.

And it's likely to remain thus until owner Lester Patrick heads east later this week.

Patrick plans to attend the National Hockey League meeting in Chicago a week today, then visit the Boston, Toronto and Montreal training camps.

Meanwhile, general manager Fred Hutchinson, who, at this time last year couldn't hit a bull with a bucket of buckshot from 20 feet on a golf course, that is, is dividing his time between practicing for the Colwood Club handicap championship against Harold Lineham and answering "No" to all queries on this year's club.

But perhaps, it's a good thing at that, the silence from Cougarville. The Tyees are still in the throes of worrying about the Spokane Indians who won't lay down and play dead, and the most worrisome of the lot is manager Cec Garriott, a pale, drawn figure with the worries of the W.I.L. on his sagging shoulders.

A change has come, over Garriott in the past few weeks. The energetic and purposeful mentor has mellowed in the waning light of the 1952 season, mellowed to the point of actually fearing the impossible—Spokane stealing the flag in a terrific last-ditch drive.

It's Possible But Improbable

Don't doubt that the Indians can't do it—catch the Tyees. Stranger things have happened in sport, but it appears unlikely that such a happening will occur.

Eleven games behind on the losing side, but with six games left with the Tyees, the Indians need to win all their remaining games to accomplish the coup while the Tyees virtually stand still.

It could go down to the final series with the Indians and much as such a possibility would be financially beneficial, don't count on it. Garriott and the Tyees haven't come this far to be relegated into obscurity with the diadem already being fitted for the wearing thereof.

The point was raised the other day as to why the Tyees as prospective league champions weren't drawing the support to which it would appear they are entitled. And the answer was that the Tyees, despite their hustling, winning brand of baseball as taught by Garriott, haven't got what might be called a "colorful" player in the crowd, except perhaps, Jehosie Heard.

"Box office appeal" is the name usually applied in such a case. The Tyees have the players. They have the urge to win. And they play winning baseball. But they haven't had that incalculable something that draws spectators.

A Difficult Question to Answer

It's difficult to describe, the plight of the Tyees, and it is a plight, the vision of a championship club balancing on the tight rope of financial uncertainty. But it's true. The Tyees just haven't been adopted for their true value.

What is it then they lack? Certainly it is not their baseball ability. Certainly it is not their spirit. Certainly it is not their club esprit de corps.

It could be that the Tyees by their own making, turning the league race into a rout during mid season, have forced themselves to be taken for granted, not for what they are. That and the fact that industrial strikes hit the pocketbook of the average fan.

But still there is a general feeling of apathy on the part of sports fans towards the club, a feeling that fails to reflect the performance of the club.

But what is the reason behind such apathy. Frankly, we don't know. Do you?

New Net Star Appears In U.S. National Meet

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 3 (AP)—It isn't likely that anyone is going to beat Maureen Connolly in this year's national tennis championships—at least not before the finals. But a few of the fans scattered at the West Side Tennis Club already have had a look at the next Connolly.

She is Julie Sampson, 18, of San Marino, Calif., the newly-crowned national girls' champion, who caused some eye-popping and tongue-wagging Tuesday by the way she disposed of Japan's women's champion, Sachiko Kamo.

Julie is a tall, thin reddish-haired girl who appears to be at about the same stage of tennis development as Miss Connolly was a year or so ago.

"Little Mo" went right on through to win the United States and Wimbledon championships. She's favored to repeat this year.

Miss Sampson didn't get started until Tuesday because she was busy winning the girls' title last week. She beat Miss Kamo, 7-2, 10-6, in a first-round match played before only a few spectators.

MEN'S UPSET

The biggest doings in the men's division came when Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., ninth-seeded American, outlasted Denmark's champion, Kurt Nielsen, 6-2, 2-6, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5.

INTERCITY LACROSSE LEAGUE PRIZE-GIVING TIME

Baubles Take Place of Bruises

It isn't all lumps and bruises in the Intercity Lacrosse League, there are also material rewards for the punishment the players take.

While the teams themselves supply some of the rewards, the ones that interest the fans most are those doled out by the league at the completion of each season.

There are seven major awards for teams and individual players and to date only one has been decided.

Winners of three more will probably be decided within the next week while three additional baubles will be awarded at the completion of the league playoffs.

Although it is not too well known, being donated for the first time this year, the CKNW "Top Dog" Trophy is the possession of the Victoria Shamrocks. The trophy, donated by Bill Read, is for the club finishing in first place in the final league standings.

The Hon. W. A. MacDonald Trophy is for the club winning the league playoffs and championship. Vancouver at present is defending trophy-holder.

The Kilmarnock Trophy, presented by the British Columbia Lacrosse Association, represents the B.C. senior championship.

Within the next few days, sportswriters of the league commission will be asked to vote for their selections for two individual player awards—the Leo Nicholson Memorial Trophy and the Ed Bayley Memorial Trophy.

Presented by H. N. Delmonico in memory of the late Leo Nicholson, famous west coast sportscaster, the Leo Nicholson Trophy is for the goalie adjudged to be the most valuable to his team.

It is stressed that final goal-keeping average need not decide the final winner. The holder of the lowest goals percentage in the league could be named winner as easily as the top goalies.

Bill Andrews of Victoria won the award last year.

The Ed Bayley Trophy, for the outstanding rookie of the year, is in honor of the one-time coach and founder of the Bluebird Lacrosse Club.

Qualifications are sportsmanship and general playing ability during the regular season. The player must not have participated in more than five games in any senior league in previous years. He must have played in at least 10 games during the season in which he is selected.

Victoria's Eddie Popham won the trophy two years ago and Fred Fulla of Nanaimo last year.

The Max MacDonald Trophy, donated by the Adanac Lacrosse Club in memory of their late coach is awarded the player chosen as most valuable to his club during the league playoffs and sports writers.

Last year Gogie Stewart of Vancouver won the prize by the margin of a hair over Victoria's Archie Browning.

Winner of the Maitland Trophy awarded the most valuable player to his team during the regular season will be chosen by trustees appointed by the donors of the trophy.

Arnold Ferguson and Jack Northup of the Irish won the prized possession the last two years, Northup being a member of Salmonacas when he was so honored.

Not on the Program

Spectators at the Red Sox-Athletics game in Philadelphia's Shibe Park got some added excitement as Boston catcher Sammy White and Philadelphia infielder Billy Hitchcock tangle on the ground near home plate in a furious fist fight and wrestling match. Surrounding the battlers are (left to right) Lou Boudreau (4); Ferris Fain (hands on hips); Tom Oliver, A's third baseman; umpire Bill McGowan, and Athletic catcher Ray Murray, being restrained by Red Sox hurler Willard Nixon (21).

Blackwell Pays Off as Yanks Blank Sox Twice

New York Yankees received a quick dividend on their $40,000 investment in Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell.

Five days following the purchase of the former National League star from Cincinnati Reds, the Yankees Tuesday night sent Blackwell to the mound against Boston Red Sox. And the long, lean right-hander responded with a scoreless five-inning performance to rack up his first American League victory.

Blackie was not the overpowering pitcher he had been in his palmy days with the Reds, but he looked quite capable before bowing out for a pinch hitter. He permitted four singles, fanned four and walked three before retiring because of weariness and the humidity as the Yanks went on to win 4-0. Earlier, rookie Tommy Gorman had hurled an eight-hit, 5-0 shut-out in the afternoon portion of the day-night doubleheader.

SLUMPING SOX

The two wins ran the Yankees' streak to five and increased their first-place margin over the idle Cleveland Indians to 3½ games. The slump-ridden Red Sox, who now have dropped seven of their last eight, all on the road, fell 8½ lengths behind the American League pace-setters. They have scored one run in the last 36 innings.

Brooklyn Dodgers, the National League leaders, dropped a pair to Philadelphia Phillies 8-2 and 9-3 and were lucky to get out of the city of brotherly love in one piece. Two dozen Philadelphia hits plus splendid pitching by righthanders Robin Roberts and Karl Drews cut the Dodgers' first-place lead over the idle New York Giants to eight games.

CHISOS FOURTH

Chicago's White Sox climbed into fourth place in the American League, vanquishing the Detroit Tigers twice, 6-3 and Rocco Krsnich's two-run triple in the ninth won the opener. Marv Grissom won his 11th in the nightcap.

Washington's Senators, although held to three hits in each game, won a two-night twin bill from Philadelphia, 3-2 in 10 innings and 5-0, to dump the Athletics into fifth place, only a half-game in front of the Nats.

Mike Torrie, Washington's 20-year-old Cuban-right-hander, pitched a one-hit shutout in his major league debut. A second inning prevented the youngster from becoming the first pitcher in modern times to hurl a no-hitter in his first big league game.

FORBES CAN HAVE FLYER POST FOR THE ASKING

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3 (AP)—John (Jake) Forbes, aggressive defenseman and successful Pacific Coast League pilot, has only to sign a contract to become the new manager of St. Louis Flyers of the American Hockey League.

Emory Jones, Flyers' president, said that Forbes is scheduled to arrive here today to talk over the contract. "We've hunted around for some time," Jones said. "Forbes knows we want him. The job is his if he wants it."

Forbes, 27, who once played for Omaha of the United States League and Indianapolis in the American, led the New Westminster club to the Pacific Coast League title last season. If he takes the offer made by the Flyers he'll probably be a player-manager.

Maple Leafs Reported Seeking Harry Lumley

TORONTO, Sept. 3 (BUP)—

Capt. Ted (Teeder) Kennedy's name was on the line today as one of the few Toronto Maple Leafs signed thus far to 1953-54 contracts although 28 have been invited to training camp.

General manager Connie Smythe hinted darkly that trade winds would blow this way next week. He is due in Chicago for the National Hockey League's semi-annual board of governors' meeting starting Sept. 11.

Smythe said he already had discussed some deals for three or four players whom he did not name. But he said they may be shipped to farm teams if satisfactory trades cannot be arranged. The Toronto general manager also refused to discuss rumors that he will deal for the services of goalie Harry Lumley of the Chicago Black Hawks when he is in Chicago.

Kennedy, however, definitely was not a topic for discussion during the trade palaver next week. Smythe said he had reached terms and was ready to skate for his ninth season with the Leafs. The 28-year-old skipper has been a professional throughout his hockey career and has never played in the minors.

Eight players asked to report to the Leafs Sept. 16 at their St. Catharines, Ont., training camp are Pittsburgh Hornets, Smythe said. Thirty-one others will report the same day to the Hornet camp at nearby Niagara Falls, where they will be handy for the Leafs officials to watch in training.

Future Leaf-Hornet relations, however, still were vague today pending the outcome of a special meeting by the American Hockey League governors. They planned to discuss recent rule changes, especially one that forbids parent clubs to recall A.H.L. farm hand-holders during the regular or playoff season.

Hutchinson to Meet Lineham

Fred Hutchinson and Harold Lineham will meet Sunday in the 36-hole final of the Colwood Golf Club handicap championship.

Hutchinson advanced to the tourney finals with a 4-and-3 triumph over Bert Acres, while Lineham defeated Bill Morgan, 5 and 3.

Lineham will give Hutchinson 22 strokes per 18 holes in the championship match.

Other results follow:
First Flight—L. E. McConkey defeated D. C. McIntire, 5 and 4; J. Simpson defeated R. M. McMillan, 4 and 3.

Second Flight—E. Thomas defeated J. Rowett, 2 up; G. L. Andrews and Dr. H. C. Gill still to play.

Third Flight—T. A. Harris defeated H. J. Evans, 4 and 2; W. Yardley defeated A. Wright, on the 18th.

Fourth Flight—G. Anderson defeated R. Dunnett, 1 up; N. L. Morgan defeated G. Cartwright, 2 and 1.

Fifth Flight—G. E. Goodwin defeated E. Gault, 1 up; G. R. Nelson defeated J. Watson, by default.

RETAIN PENNANT HOPE

Indians Close Gap on Tyees

Spokane 2, Victoria 1

Spokane Indians won't roll over. Firmly believing that the age of miracles hasn't passed, the Indians Tuesday night kept their Western International League pennant hopes flickering with a 2-1 victory over the Tyees.

John Conant's 17th victory of the season reduced the Tyees' league-leading margin to seven games, lowest it has been for some weeks. It was Spokane's ninth straight triumph.

Tyees have 15 games left to play and it is believed the Indians have 14 including the second game of the current series between the two clubs tonight and the third Thursday night.

Spokane took a 1-0 lead in the first inning and held it until the eighth. Eddie Murphy walked, stole second, went to third on catcher Ron Bottler's bad throw and scored on a single by Bill Sheets.

ABERNATHY CONNECTS

Jehosie Heard then blanked the Indians until relieved for pinch-hitter Chuck Abernathy in the eighth.

Abernathy came through with a pinch single, scoring Jim Clark with the tying run. Clark had singled and was advanced to second on a sacrifice by John Trece.

However, the Indians wasted no time in again taking the lead in the bottom of the eighth.

DISPUTED CALL

Bill Prior, who relieved Heard, walked three men and then, with two out, hit shortstop Wilbur Johnson with a pitched ball. The Tyees protested vigorously that Johnson hadn't been hit—but umpire Ed Maslowski ruled otherwise and the winning run crossed the plate.

Catcher Ron Bottler was banished from the game during the melee for disputing Maslowski's wisdom.

One of the game's highlights was Granny Gladstone's perfect throw which cut down Johnson at the plate in the second inning. In other games Tuesday, Lewiston nipped Vancouver, 7-6; Yakima defeated Wenatchee, 5-1; and Salem edged Tri-City, 4-2.

SEVEN-UPS, CIVIL SERVICE DROP OUT

Commercial Ice Loop To Have Four Teams

The Victoria Cougars may not be talking hockey yet but the Commercial Hockey League is full of chatter about the coming season.

At a meeting Tuesday night, it was settled that the league will have four teams this year instead of the six carried last season.

The teams returning are Army, Navy, Victoria Merchants and Individuals.

The two teams not renewing their franchises this year are Civil Service and Seven-Ups.

The former has asked to have its franchise held over for one year while Mike Leachman, Seven-Ups' manager last year, says his team is unable to operate this year.

Lions Turn Tail on Cagers

It was a pleasant dream while it lasted but the Victoria and District Basketball League awoke Tuesday night to find it was out in the cold again.

It had been believed basketball was heading for a millennium due to the offer of the Victoria Lions' Club to take over complete control of the game in the city with an eye to providing something worth while for the younger generation.

Committees were formed and tentative plans laid but the whole thing fell through Tuesday night at St. Louis College at the annual meeting of the V. and D. League.

A basketball league official told the Times this morning that the Lions Club had requested a letter releasing them from any obligations incurred during preliminary meetings of the two bodies. Disagreement within the membership of the Lions Club was given as the reason.

The official stated the V. and D. League will forward the releasing letter but expressed keen disappointment due to the fact that it will be difficult to interest another service club in the venture because of publicity already given the Lions Club.

A Lions Club official said this morning it was unfortunate that an agreement could not be reached for the good of the game.

In spite of the shattering blow to future plans, the league immediately formed a temporary committee in lieu of election of a new executive.

Pat Horgan heads the committee with Sid Watson, Shirley Lewis, Evelyn Slater, Charlie Lewis, R. C. Miller and Jim Lewis on the board.

The association will hold another meeting at St. Louis College Sept. 16, and it is hoped that sports-minded citizens will attend the meeting to offer help for the coming season.

Anyone interested may obtain further information from Horgan at E 1050.

TED ROBLEDO BENCHED; SEEKS SOCCER TRANSFER

LONDON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Chilean-born Ted Robledo, one of the best halfbacks in British football, has asked for a transfer from the Newcastle United football club.

Ted lost his place on the Newcastle team at the beginning of the new soccer season after helping to win the Football Association Challenge Cup at Wembley Stadium last May when Arsenal was beaten 1-0 by a goal scored by his brother George, a forward in the United line-up.

Ted and George joined Newcastle United from Barnsley in January, 1949.

Stan Seymour, Newcastle's vice-chairman, recently estimated that Robledo was worth £20,000 in the transfer market. Ted's request to be sold to another club will be considered at today's meeting of directors of the Newcastle club.

Zatopek 'Fantastic,' Says Olympic Coach

Emil Zatopek, the Czechoslovakian distance runner, was one of the greatest individual stars of the 1952 Olympic Games and one of the greatest runners of all time, in the opinion of Bruce Humber, coach of Canada's Olympic track team.

"He's fantastic," Humber told the Canadian Gyrus Club Tuesday night at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel. "His form is perfect from the hips down, but from the waist up he's awful."

"He does everything wrong. His torso twists every which way, his arms wave in all directions, and his head rolls around as if it might fall off. But he can win when and how he wants to."

Humber said Zatopek's marathon run was an example of his ability. "Then he ate an apple and sauntered off to give a 15-minute radio broadcast."

Archibald McKinnon, swimming team coach, recalled incidents of the Czech had never run the marathon before, so kept asking him if his pace was correct. Finally, at the 15-mile mark, he decided the marathon was "a piece of cake," set his own pace, and finished well in front with a new Olympic record.

"He came into the stadium with all his contortions, but the minute he crossed the finish line he straightened up," Humber said. "Then he ate an apple and sauntered off to give a 15-minute radio broadcast."

Mayo Giants Take B.C. Softball Title

DUNCAN, Sept. 3 — Mayo Giants of Duncan captured the B.C. men's senior C softball championship here on Sunday defeating McWaters' 11111ard Parlor of New Westminster 5-1 in the rubber game of their three-game series.

Duncan won the first game 6-2, lost the second 10-1.

Elmer Evans, Mayo's veteran pitcher, was credited with the two victories, giving up nine hits and no walks in 18 innings.

Gordon Hartley, New Westminster's 17-year-old mound ace, appeared in all three games, two of them in relief.

Harold Painter, president of the Duncan Softball Association, presented the championship pennant and individual player crests to Howie Valeau, Mayo Giants' pitcher and coach.

No Scarcity of Jobs For Suzanne in Paris

Canadian-Born Cloutier Gets Two Movie And Stage Offers After Hollywood Idleness

PARIS, Sept. 3 (Reuters)—Ottawa-born Suzanne Cloutier is glad to be back in Europe after four idle months in Hollywood. She returned to Paris recently and already has a choice of three possible jobs.

"I'm trying to make up my mind whether to make a movie in France, a movie in Italy, or appear on the Paris stage," she said in an interview.

Daughter of Queen's Printer Edmond Cloutier of Ottawa, she first hit the headlines with her portrayal of Desdemona in Orson Welles' "Othello," joint winner of the 1951 Cannes international film festival.

Then came "Derby Day," an English picture in which she co-starred with Michael Wilding, followed by a Hollywood contract requiring her to spend four months a year on the Paramount lot.

She went to Hollywood, was lined up to star opposite Alan Ladd in "Persian Gulf" when things went wrong. Ladd could not be obtained, and there were script difficulties.

"And I found myself without anything to do," said Miss Cloutier, a green-eyed brunette.

But thought she's disappointed because she did no movie-making while in Hollywood, she said her tie-up with Paramount is "an ideal situation because it allows her eight months free-lancing a year."

She claims it will keep her from "becoming too typed and too Hollywood."

"Most European actresses are disappointed in Hollywood if they spend too much time there," she explained. "They do not fit into any stock pattern. They haven't the Hollywood kind of personality."

Early next year she'll return to Hollywood for another 16 weeks. Miss Cloutier was educated in a French convent and learned no English until she was 18. Before playing Desdemona, she spent hours every day perfecting her English with a teacher "who ruthlessly corrected every mistake."

She spoke proudly of the advantages of being a Canadian abroad.

"You feel you belong everywhere," she said.

"The British feel you are one of them. The French have a kinship with the French-Canadians. The Americans accept you, since you belong to the new world, and the Italians seem to have developed a fondness for Canadians during the war."

(BB) "SHE'S WORKING HER WAY THROUGH COLLEGE" (Capitol).—Thanks to one or two songs, principally "We're Working Our Way Through College," that hark back to the great musical comedy team of Wheeler and Woolsey of the late 20's and early 30's (Rio Rita, etc.), one excellent dance routine by Gene Nelson in a gymnasium, and some quiet funny business by capable Ronald (The Winning Team) Reagan, this one is saved from disaster.

As in a surprising number of musical comedies the music, for the most part, is pretty thin fare.

And the college scenes are as sparsely populated as something conceived by a bare-purged Little Theatre.

And who in the world ever heard of a college picture in the football season (which this one is) without a bang-up football game?

The Warner Bros. effort, screen play by Peter Milne, is about Virginia Mayo, a burlesque queen known as Gay Garters Gertie, who is in showbiz only to make the required money to give her a college education. Unfortunately for the shapely Miss Mayo, once on the campus her academic pursuits are jeopardized by an expose of her former bumps and grinds career. How she is saved by "Professor" Reagan is trite enough but, fortunately, there is enough light-hearted puff and the one or two good scenes that I have already mentioned to make it not altogether a lost evening.

I think you will get particular enjoyment of the scene where amiable Regan "hangs one" when he thinks he is losing his wife to old flame Don DeFore. That boy is getting better all the time.

Choristers Trace Long Journey

Rev. Francis Schmitt, director of the Boys' Town Choir, traces the itinerary of the group's sixth annual concert tour, extending coast-to-coast in the U.S. and Canada. Boys with him, left to right, are Clifford Fredericks, Robert Wright, Billy Williams, John Blake, Hal Keat, Benny Markwell and Anthony Tuzzio. The Boys' Town Choir, which appears here at the Memorial Arena Sept. 15, under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club of Victoria North, represents Father Flanagan's

Boys' Home and School. It was founded at Omaha, Neb., in December, 1917, by the late Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Flanagan with a borrowed $90 and five boys, two from the juvenile court and three homeless waifs. In the 35 years which have since passed, more than 7,500 homeless, neglected boys have called Boys' Town their home. The choir has won widespread renown and programs music ranging from Sixteenth Century up to American folk songs and negro spirituals.

M-G-M DROPS LANZA'S NEW SINGING FILM

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 3 (AP).

—M-G-M's quarrel with singer Mario Lanza reached a new crisis today with the studio announcing abandonment of his new film, "The Student Prince."

The studio said more than $700,000 already has been invested in the movie. A spokesman for Lanza said the singer expects the picture still will be completed.

"Most of the technical obstacles have been taken care of," the spokesman said, "but there are some artistic issues still to be settled. Lanza feels that possibly the picture will be delayed for a few weeks but that eventually it will be made and he is most anxious to star in it under the right auspices."

Reports circulated that the actor does not see eye to eye with those in charge of making the movie.

Election Over as C.C.F. Leader Yields Burrard Seat With Protest

By GORDON FORBES
British Columbia's marathon election, which has been keeping citizens guessing since June 12, is now over—but not forgotten. The actual end of the election battle came Tuesday when C.C.F. leader Harold Winch said his party will make no further attempt to reverse the election of Social Credit-Bert Price in Vancouver-Burrard.

His statement came shortly after Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced his cabinet had refused the C.C.F. request for a recount in the riding. The premier said the cabinet had no authority to order the recount, although his government, he said, would have welcomed it.

The C.C.F. leader said the cabinet's refusal was "not very democratic."

"They have the power to refuse us," Mr. Winch said, "but I'm surprised they wouldn't have the decency to go through with the recount."

C.C.F. candidate Grant McNeill was defeated by Mr. Price by 246 votes in the Vancouver-Burrard riding. The C.C.F. went to three courts seeking a recount, but in each case was refused.

But, as the 1952 election goes into history there is speculation that Premier Bennett is considering asking another general election this year.

He hasn't denied reports that another election is possible.

A new election, high Socialists believe, would give them a good opportunity to increase their standing in the legislature.

Standings in the 23rd legislature are shown below with standings at dissolution of the 22nd legislature in brackets:

Social Expert Takes Gloomy View of World

Society is out of adjustment to the technology that created it, and the basic social structure, the human community, is in a state of decay.

This was the keynote of the West Coast Regional Conference of the American Public Welfare Association, sounded Tuesday night by Dr. Richard Poston, community consultant, bureau of community development, University of Washington.

The three-day conference is being attended by public welfare workers from Alaska, Hawaii, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

"The natural community in which human values flourished and which was conducive to democratic processes and individual responsibilities is dangerously close to extinction," Dr. Poston warned. "Man has become the slave to his own mechanical and intellectual creation which now threatens to destroy him in one mighty blast."

"Decline of local community vitality is sapping the life strength from our democratic heritage," he said. "It is making us appear hypocritical before a world in which we are attempting to demonstrate the strength of our ideals."

"It is making us a victim of Communism—and let no one deceive himself into thinking this doesn't contribute to the problems of public relief."

"Millions of men are no longer men," Dr. Poston charged. "Instead they are pieces of men living in a kind of existence from payday to payday in a great mass of anonymous and socially isolated human fragments."

Catholic Schools Resume Classes

MAILLARDVILLE, B.C., Sept. 3 (BUP) — Two Roman Catholic schools at Maillardville were conducting classes again today after being closed for nearly 18 months.

Our Lady of Fatima and Our Lady of Lourdes schools were closed as a protest against the provincial government's refusal to pay regular grants to parochial schools. About 600 students will attend the Catholic schools, officials estimated.

U.K. JET BOAT HITS 100 M.P.H.

LOCH NESS, Scotland, Sept. 3 (Reuters)—John Cobb's jet-propelled speedboat reached speeds of about 100 miles an hour on its first trial runs today.

But Cobb, British holder of the world land-speed record, decided not to try today to smash the water speed record of 178.4 miles an hour held by Stanley Sayres of Seattle, Wash.

His jet boat "Crusader" made several runs across the lake and first reports were that everything was satisfactory. The craft has a potential speed of 200 M.P.H.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

They tell me money talks.
This is no doubt true, but the Buffalo nickel seems to have a severe case of laryngitis at the present time.

The economists say that the Canadian dollar is the hardest money in the world today.
This is nothing new for a great many of us. It has always been (a) the hardest to get and (b) the hardest to keep.

Perhaps the economists can explain something for me.
I found a U.S. 5-cent piece in my pocket this morning. The business editor tells me the banks discount U.S. paper money 4 1/2 per cent and that they discount silver 4 1/2 per cent plus 2 per cent for a total of 6 1/2 per cent, which can be more easily figured at 7 per cent.

(I hope you are paying strict attention).
What I would like the economists to explain is, if my U.S. 5 cents is discounted 7 per cent, this means the nickel is worth minus 2 cents, so who do I pay the 2 cents to?
(On second thoughts, do not bother to explain. I'll put the 5-cent piece in a parking meter instead).

One more monetary note: a local ice cream dispensary has its own solution to the problem. Two youngsters decided to buy a cone apiece. One had a U.S. dime, the other a Canadian dime.

The lad with the U.S. dime was given a single cone. The one with the Canadian dime received a double-header.

Staffer Humphry Davy, who is accompanying Prime Minister St. Laurent on his B.C. tour, reports that the gentleman "hasn't changed in 10 years."

This, of course, is intended as a compliment. But it brings up a point which has long puzzled me:

Why do human beings like to be told they "haven't changed a bit?"

An automobile manufacturer would be incensed if told his product "hadn't changed a bit" in 10 years.

So would the manufacturer or designer of any other product, from washing machines to yo-yos.

Yet the way to make the manufacturer himself happy is to say "By George, you don't look a day older than you did 10 years ago."

I would say that people should be proud of the progress brought to them through the years.

If a man DOESN'T change in the decade between, say, 25 and 35, he had better consult a psychiatrist.

My idea of a real compliment is "Heavens, how you've changed."

Perhaps the reason listeners are having trouble identifying the "Famous Canadian" on CKDA is they've decided it's a man.

It isn't.

Desperate quest for information: What's going on down that manhole at the corner of Government and Discovery?

Morning after morning after morning, I see the lid off, and the red flag up.

Is a Soviet agent hiding out down there?

Is it a Social Creditor looking for oil?

Will somebody please tell me what's going on down there?

BRIEF SCARE DISSIPATED BY NAVY FINDING

A brief "Russian mine" scare on the west coast of Vancouver Island evaporated in the mist today when the Royal Canadian Navy's Pacific Command revealed that the "deadly explosive" was a harmless anti-submarine practice projectile.

The floating "mine" was reported by the fishboat Charlene, off Barclay Sound on Aug. 29. Later it was picked up (gingerly) and taken aboard by a second fisherman, Gabriela Flyer.

The later report to Pacific Command, in accordance with a standing request from the Navy, from the description given, ordnance experts could not be certain of the nature of the projectile, so the fisherman was asked not to tamper with it or attempt to dismantle it.

Over the week-end H.M.C.S. Sioux, on training exercises in the area, picked up the object and identified it as a practice anti-submarine device. The "weapon" is not armed and contains no explosives.

Employers Say Carpenters Broke Faith in Conducting Open Voting

By DON INGHAM

Peace treaties have ended all labor-management warfare on Vancouver Island and the lower mainland, rampant since mid-May, when one of the worst periods of labor strife in B.C. in recent years started... except in Victoria.

Hopes that the strike of city carpenters that has paralyzed the construction industry here since June 17 might be finished were dashed Tuesday night when carpenters voted 294 to 8 against accepting the employers' wage offer of $2 per hour.

"We are disappointed that the union did not keep its word."

"Officials promised us a secret ballot would be taken, yet it was done by a standing vote," said W. J. Hamilton, president of Victoria Builders' Exchange, employers' association.

"PEP TALK"
"They also said there would be no recommendations made for or against the offer, but they stated their opinions in the press and gave the men a 'pep talk' before the vote," Mr. Hamilton said.

He will not know until another meeting of contractors if the $2 hourly wage offer, made last Friday, will continue to stand.

Plumbers have given the union assurance that they will continue to observe picket lines on local jobs, union officials said.

PAINTERS' SETTLEMENT
It was announced today in Vancouver that 500 painters ended their 81-day strike Tuesday night and returned to work today.

A settlement of the Duncan carpenters' dispute might be forthcoming from a meeting between the union and contractors in Duncan at 7:30 tonight.

15,000 B.C. Fishermen May Quit Over Prices

A dispute over prices for chum salmon threatens to idle about 15,000 fishermen and allied workers along the west coast.

Officials of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union report industry representatives have not reached any agreement on prices to be paid for the fall chum run. The 1951 contract expired Labor Day.

Union officials said net fishermen indicated they wanted from eight to 11 cents a pound for the fall chum run. Fisheries association officials said the market outlook was poor, but no offer or counter-offers were made in meetings that started last Wednesday.

At a meeting in Alert Bay on the week-end, salmon net fishermen decided to proceed to the settlement of fall chum prices.

"The U.F.A.W.U. has not called a strike," Homer Stevens, union secretary-treasurer, announced today. "All members affected must be given a chance to vote by secret ballot before the union officers are empowered to call or settle any strike."

"Meetings will be held this week-end to provide all members with an opportunity to vote."

City Council is expected to give the "green light" Thursday to establishment of a nursing home at 840 Pemberton Road and to clear away certain technicalities holding up development of an old people's village by the Kiwanis Club.

Mayor Claude Harrison has called a special meeting of aldermen to deal with these matters, and a suggestion that the school board be asked to move from Craigdarroch Castle so the old stone landmark can be used as a tourist attraction.

Concerning the nursing home project, council will merely have to give a nod of approval to a motion it passed two meetings ago.

Council give its consent for Mrs. A. K. Love to establish a nursing home on Pemberton Road a month ago, but decided to hold things up when, at the last council meeting, Rockland Avenue resident B. Russell Ker lodged a protest.

He objected to another nursing home going into the Rockland district and complained that residents of the area had not been consulted.

After Mr. Ker presented a petition signed by 40 Rockland residents, council decided to hold things in abeyance until it could review the situation and seek advice from the Town Planning Commission.

With regard to the Kiwanis housing project, authorities have ruled that if the service group changes its plans only slightly, by moving certain units back three feet, all requirements of the city will be met.

Council is expected then to authorize expenditure of an additional $878, required to install water mains and sewers to service the Kiwanis units.

Concerning Craigdarroch Castle, council will hear a proposal from Ald. P. B. Scourrah that the city ask the Greater Victoria School Board to move from the castle to premises at 837 St. Charles Street.

At the college here, he will be overseer of the library's 10,000 volumes. Only 27, he is particularly keen about his new job and holds high hopes that the day will not be far off when the library here will be built up as a proper university library, with books available for students in the higher grades.

The library will benefit from a $5,000 donation campaign to be launched later in the year. An appeal will be made for subscriptions to honor former college professors. The money will be used to buy books for the library.

Island Roads Talk Feature By Chamber

By BURKE CAHILL

Highways on Vancouver Island highlighted discussion at the quarterly meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce in the Empress Hotel at noon today.

Delegates from chambers at Duncan, Shawnigan, Lantzville, Nanaimo, Port Alberni, Saanich and Port Renfrew attended the meeting and aired their respective highway needs.

J. A. Trapp of New Westminster, chairman of the roads committee of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce, also attended.

Provincial cabinet ministers attending included Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi who gave a brief, "off-the-cuff" address on progress to date of the Island's public roads program.

Mr. Gagliardi stressed that he could make no new commitments at present. He said that highway construction must be limited to funds available.

Other members of the B.C. cabinet present were Education Minister Tilly Ralston, Labor Minister Lyle Wicks, Provincial Secretary W. D. Black, Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Somers, Health Minister Eric Martin and Finance Minister E. M. Gundersen.

PORT RENFREW NEED

A delegation from Port Renfrew, headed by J. A. Anderson, president of the local chamber, stressed the need for road work in their west coast district.

The Port Renfrew delegation was supported by Frank Mitchell, M.L.A.-for Esquimalt, which includes Port Renfrew constituents. Withdrawal of the C.P.R.'s Maquinna from service on the Island's West Coast has brought the entire problem of road service to a head, Mr. Mitchell said.

Port Renfrew residents want roads. Mr. Johnson stressed, not steamship service. He explained, however, that until roads can be built to serve the community some sort of interim shipping service is vital.

ROOT OF EVIL SHUNNED

U.S. Coinage Proves Most Unpopular Here

BY R. E. PORTER

If the coinage of the world held a popularity contest in Victoria today, it's likely that U.S. nickels, dimes, quarters and halves would rank "way down at the bottom of the list."

Even the inoffensive five-cent piece, with its buffalo or Jefferson decoration, is treated like a social outcast at news-stands, coffee-shops, and the corner grocery.

About the only place the U.S. nickel can hide his blushes in decent seclusion is deep within a parking-meter, telephone, juke-box, or other sympathetic machine.

And the operators of these machines are perhaps the unhappiest of all, heaping maledictions on the poor U.S. coins when they appear on the counting tables.

The reason, of course, is the latest blow to the pride of U.S. money—the banks' decision to place an additional 2-per-cent discount on U.S. silver—two per cent more than on paper money, which is already taking a 4 1/2-per-cent beating.

The banks say they wish to discourage Victoria businessmen from accepting U.S. silver.

Any businessman The Times talked with this morning needs no discouraging.

They're already fed up with the bother of double-sorting silver, facing irate customers who "accidentally" receive some of same in their change, and casting an eagle eye on incoming coinage.

Yes, it's a sad, sad time for U.S. coins—friendless, shunned, derided in strange land, where once they were welcomed with open purses.

Perhaps, like MacArthur, they are saying in ringing tones "We shall be back."

POLIO TOLL 19

28 New Cases Since Tuesday

An 11-months-old boy Tuesday became British Columbia's 19th polio fatality of the year.

The infant lived at Canal Flats on the mainland.

The province has had 230 polio cases to date, 28 new cases being reported since Tuesday morning.

One of the polio cases is at Courtenay, bringing the island's total for the year to 10.

Provincial health officials had no details on the island case.

More Time for a Hobby
With Children at School

By PENNY SAVER

Here I go again talking about hobbies. I hope you'll forgive me but hobbies are the most interesting things to occupy your spare time and now that the children are back to school you may find that you have a few extra moments to yourself.

This hobby, besides entertaining you, shows up attractively in your home.

Have you ever thought of making pressed copper or aluminum pictures for your home or as gifts? You don't have to be an artist you know.

As long as you can trace a picture you're all set. Pictures for tracing, showing all the shading that needs to be done, cost 15 pennies. The variety is wonderful.

Of course, if you are fortunate enough to be able to draw with out tracing you can really go to town.

Sheet copper sells at 36 pennies a foot and for the average-size picture you really don't need quite that much. Aluminum by the sheet is 16 pennies a foot.

When you figure it out you can make a picture for about 24 cents.

Frames, suitable for this type of work, are $3 and up, so actually by the time you have your own creation finished and ready to hang on the wall you won't have spent more than $4.

There is only one tool you need to do the whole job. That is a modler and it is priced at 75 pennies.

Some people like to touch up the copper or aluminum with paint. More than likely the paints you have at home will do the job, but if you're not satisfied a few new jars will not cost you very much.

If this type of relaxation doesn't appeal to you maybe you would like to indulge in leatherwork.

It is a little more expensive but very rewarding in the finished product.

Not so very long ago this hobby would have cost you about 20 per cent more than it does now as leather has dropped that much. You can make a fine looking wallet for approximately $2.25 and a purse for about $10. This, of course, does not include your tools.

These tools are not very expensive but vary with the type of leathercraft you are doing.

Patterns and detailed instructions will make the new hobby easy for you to learn.

Certain Moments Call
For Emotional Spree

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

Changing one's self is commendable, if the change is an improvement. But a change for the worse should be avoided. This young woman is better off as she is:

(Q)—"I don't get nervous or excited. I take things as they come, seldom raise my voice when I'm angry, and rarely say unkind things to people. My boss knows I don't get mad and at times she takes advantage of me. I'm trying to be my natural self. Should I change or stay the way I am?"

(A)—You are lucky to have such good emotional control. It is certainly more dignified than making a scene and doing things you may later regret.

You should not, however, have such perfect emotional control that you cannot use your emotions when they will be beneficial to you. After all, our emotions are a weapon nature has given us to meet certain emergency situations and we should, therefore, keep them ready for use.

There are times when anger is necessary, or fear, jealousy, and the other emotions. In dealing with your boss you need to use indignation to assure yourself of fair treatment.

Within limits, you should change yourself. Learn to use anger when it is necessary to enable you to get a fair deal. This is a change for the better.

Don't, on the other hand, go overboard and lose all control. That would certainly be a step backwards. An adult who does not know how to control his anger and who flies off the handle like a child in a temper tantrum wins the disapproval and scorn of others.

No one, however, will blame you if you show indignation. You'd be weak and spineless if you allowed your boss or anyone else to take advantage of you.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

After a heavy dinner, a dessert like this will please your guests. Cover drained canned fruit cocktail with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup or more of kirsch or cointreau. Let this marinate while you serve the main course. Then place a spoonful in the bottom of each chilled sherbet glass. Top with a scoop of soft ice cream and more fruit cocktail.

This dessert is a real conversation starter. Drain a jar of sweet dark cherries. Pit the cherries. Thicken the syrup with a tablespoon of cornstarch. Stir in two tablespoons brandy, the pitted cherries and one-third cup roasted halved blanched almonds. Add a drop or two red food coloring if desired. Serve warm over hard ice cream.

TODAY'S RECIPE

PEACH HONEY CRISP

Four cups sliced peaches, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup honey, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup flour, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup brown sugar, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup walnuts (if desired).

Spread sliced peaches in a shallow baking dish, sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice and pour honey over all. In a bowl mix flour, brown sugar, and salt, and work in the butter as for biscuits, making a crumbly mixture. Spread these crumbs evenly over the peaches and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 30 to 40 minutes, or until peaches are tender and crust crisply browned. Serve warm with plain cream, or whipped cream topped with a dash of powdered cinnamon.

For a real he-man sandwich, spread rye bread with liverwurst, top with slices of Calavo and bright red tomato. It's a wonderful combination and a meal in itself.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Having a Baby? Modern
Method Keeps You Fit

It is about time "Why Grow Old?" gave some help again to young mothers and to prospective mothers. Here are a few suggestions for the health of mothers and babies and also for preservation of mother's good looks.

1. As soon as you suspect that you are pregnant see a good physician. Be intelligent in your selection of one. Do not wait to go to him. Early care is of the greatest importance.

2. Unless your doctor advises you otherwise, walk daily. This will make a big difference in your vitality and is thought to be the only way in which you can affect the size of your child.

3. Follow your doctor's instructions concerning diet. He will want you to eat a well-balanced diet with more calcium than usual (more milk).

4. Do not become fat. There is no reason for a woman to do so during pregnancy. Increased weight leave you with figure problems and makes delivery more difficult. It also leads to those little white marks on the skin of the abdomen.

5. Melt cocoa butter and massage it into the skin of the abdomen every night. This will aid you in avoiding the white streaks mentioned above.

6. When you rest, do so with your feet and hips higher than your head.

7. If you do gain weight during pregnancy you cannot diet, in the real sense of the word, until after you wean your baby if you are nursing it. As soon as this period is over, get busy with dieting. Do not allow the pounds to linger.

8. Exercise as soon after delivery as your doctor allows. Snap those muscles back into form.

9. Be sure to wear a brassiere which is especially designed to support the increased weight of the busts during the nursing period.

10. Always lie down when you nurse your child. This will make a big difference in preserving your bustline.

There is no permanent spread in the honey structure from childbirth and no reason for figure trouble. Be happy, and do not blame figure faults from here on, on fact that you are a mother.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 21, "Reconditioning After Childbirth," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

PARIS, Sept. 3 (AP)—The 1952 fall and winter silhouette, as decreed by French fashion experts, is a compromise that should suit most figures: it's neither too full nor too slim.

Hems have dropped to 12 inches from the floor.

Women who like tight belts will have to turn to Christian Dior this season. Other designers leave the waist loose and low for a middy effect.

Daytime necklines are modestly high, but they get lower and lower on cocktail, dinner and dance dresses.

Salad From Greece

The chief salad plant of modern days is probably native to the Greek Islands. In England, the type, generally known here as "romaine" still bears the name of "Cos lettuce" after the island Cos (now Stanchion) of the Aegean Sea which is noteworthy as the birthplace of Hippocrates and several other famous men of Greece. It was first used in England in 1520 and King VIII conferred a special award upon the gardener who devised a combination of lettuce and cherries for the royal table. The Greeks served lettuce at the end of their meals; the Romans ate it as an appetizer accompanied with eggs. So highly did the

Bride To Make Home in Vancouver

A picture of bridal beauty is portrayed by Janet Anne Straith, who was united in marriage with Ronald Alexander Stuart at a recent nuptial service in First United Church. Dr. W. G. Wilson officiated for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Straith, Rockland Avenue, and the son of Mrs. John Sjöström, Nelson, B.C., and late Mr. R. J. Stuart. Following a honeymoon up-Island the couple will make their home in Vancouver, where the groom is majoring in chemical engineering at the University of British Columbia. (Photo by Joncas.)

Veterans' Hospital Auxiliary To Abandon Old Card Project

China and a piano bench requested by hospital officials, will be purchased by the Women's Auxiliary to Veterans' Hospital. It was decided at a meeting held this week with Mrs. Aubrey Kent in the chair.

In view of the expense involved in making over old Christmas cards and as the auxiliary did not wish to compete with merchants who have been so generous in assisting its projects in the past, it decided to abandon the project and sent, instead, a shipment of cards to England.

One new member, Mrs. S. J. Murray, and one associate member, Mrs. Ross Napier, were welcomed and a report of the B.C. Hospitals Association convention was read by Mrs. Wallace Courtney.

Ends Long Service on Frontier

HAY RIVER, N.W.T., Sept. 3 (CP)—A woman who spent 23 years as nurse-doctor-dentist at this frontier post 500 miles north of Edmonton is retiring.

Miss Winnifred Neville has left for Strathmore, Alta., where she will visit a sister.

When the young English nurse arrived at Hay River in 1929, the Slave Indians gave her the name "Nuteqoshon" which means "she knows medicine." Before she left they were calling her "Gomar"—their word for mother.

"The gratitude of the natives was wonderful," Miss Neville said in an interview at Edmonton. "And before I left, many had asked me to remember them in my prayers."

"Many of them I had brought into the world and buried. Others I had seen grow up and their children after them."

When Miss Neville first arrived at Hay River while the hospital was being built, the natives insisted on continuing with their own operations and obstetrics. Miss Neville's work was largely a matter of education.

"But through the years, they soon learned the value of coming to the hospital," she said.

The nearest doctor was 76 miles away at Fort Resolution. He visited the 10-bed hospital once each winter and twice in the summer.

The nurse, whose work might include anything from treating a chopped-off thumb to extracting teeth, trained at Ramsgate Hospital on the south coast of England.

When she first came to western Canada after hearing about the country from a brother, Miss Neville was at a mission school at Cardston, Alta. When an appeal was made for workers in the north, she came to Hay River.

Says Old Mexico In Modern State

TORONTO, Sept. 3 (CP)—If Mrs. Francisco Manzano had her way, the travel agencies would tear up their exotic Mexican posters—pronto.

"Everyone in Canada seems to think there is nothing in Mexico but Indians in serapes eating tamales," she said here. "It's simply not so."

A native of Mexico City, she and her husband are visiting at a lodge in suburban Scarborough.

"Most people in Mexico now are of European ancestry and they dress just as well, or better, than Americans and Canadians," she asserted.

"A Mexican man wouldn't think of going downtown without his suit-coat, and our girls never wear shorts or slacks on the streets."

"We eat tamales and enchiladas, it's true, but only on special occasions. And we wouldn't feed them to children—they might ruin their stomachs."

The Manzanos won a big panda bear doll in a midway show at the Canadian National Exhibition here and they will take it back to their seven children in Mexico.

Children are usually not much on eating salads unless they are finger salads. One they'll like is plump cooked prunes, pitted and stuffed with a spoonful of cottage cheese or peanut butter.

Variety of Food in School Lunch Pail Important in Health Picture

As sure as that the school bell rings, it's time again to think about what goes into little Johnnie's lunch-pail.

Variety is most important.

"Introduce new foods gradually and children will accept them," says one authority. "Vary foods from day to day. If the school program does not provide one hot dish, you may include soup, cocoa, or a main dish in a vacuum bottle."

Essentials for every lunch are: Milk, to drink or in food; fruit or vegetables or both (raw or cooked); use tomatoes and oranges often; meat (or cheese, egg, fish, beans or peanut-butter); whole wheat bread (or muffins or tea-biscuits made with whole wheat flour, wheat germ, bran or rolled oats).

Suggested lunch: Vegetable soup; sandwiches (whole wheat bread, minced beef and pickle or salmon and celery; carrot strips; whole orange; oatmeal cookies; milk).

Fruit may be carried in a container and might be a baked apple or apple sauce, stewed apricots, mixed fruit cup or fresh diced pineapple.

FISH FANCIES

The Jubilee Guilds of Newfoundland and Labrador have compiled a booklet of fish recipes perhaps little known in other parts of Canada but for a long time popular dishes in the Atlantic province.

"Many Newfoundlanders have earned their livelihood through generations by pursuing the fishing industry," says the introduction. "This livelihood is not only profitable commercially but nutritionally as well. . . . As compared with many cuts of meat, fish is a relatively cheap source of protein-giving food."

Fried smelts: Heads and tails should be left on the cleaned smelts, which are then rolled in flour and fried in fat. They also may be dipped in egg and crumbs and deep fried. Serve with mashed potatoes and tartar sauce.

Fried roe and bacon: 1½ pounds roe; 12 slices fried bacon; cooking fat; one egg; cold water; crumbs; seasoning.

Wipe roe dry and dip in crumbs. Dip again in slightly beaten egg to which two tablespoons of cold water have been added. Roll again in crumbs. Fry in deep fat. Serve with strips of bacon.

For a new kind of omelet: One cup cooked fish (flaked); one-half tablespoon flour; two tablespoons butter; one cup milk; five eggs; salt and pepper.

Beat eggs slightly. Add all ingredients except butter. Place butter in pan. When hot turn in mixture. As it cooks prick with fork until it is of crumb consistency. Cook as quickly as possible. Serve on hot plates.

The small packages of raisins are plentiful once more and make a good in-between meal snack for children. You never need to worry about this sweet melting or becoming sticky.

Addition of Soup Gives A Tasty Boost to Meat

If the meat problem "has you up a tree," quickly get acquainted with condensed tomato soup.

The rich, ready tomato sauce has special cooking value in this meat-scarce period. Whether hot dogs, fish or hamburgers are on your menu, the main dish will be more tempting and go further with a tomato-soup-sauce.

Another bright idea. Use the tomato soup and one of the fine canned meats to make a mouth-watering main dish, all from products kept on the kitchen shelf. Tomato corned beef hash is kind of dish. And the rest of a royal repast can come from the same handy shelf. Feature this casserole "alongside of" green beans in vinegar sauce, peach salad, and butterscotch pudding.

TOMATO CORNED BEEF HASH

One large onion (sliced), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 1-lb. can corned beef hash, 1 can (1½ cups) condensed tomato soup, ¼ cup buttered bread crumbs.

Cook onion until tender in two tablespoons butter in a skillet. Break corned beef hash into small pieces; place half of it in a one-quart casserole. Pour over it ½ can soup; add onion slices and remaining corned beef hash and soup. Sprinkle top with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 20 minutes. Makes four servings.

SOUP SCOOPS

Sunday Spaghetti: Simply scrumptious with a can of spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese is a liberal addition of good browned chicken livers. Cut about ½ pound of the livers into bite-size pieces. Then cook the meat in butter until browned and done. Just add spaghetti, heat well and serve.

Shrimp in Mushroom Sauce: You "never had shrimp so good" till you have it sauced with a can of mushroom soup. Blend the condensed soup with ½ cup milk and ¼ cup of sauteed green pepper strips; then add about ½ cup of cooked shrimp cut in half lengthwise. Pour this over three cups of hot fluffy rice. Curry lovers can blend the rice with two tablespoons of melted butter mixed with ½ teaspoon curry powder.

Scottish Girl Left-Hand Expert

GLASGOW (CP)—A Scottish girl, 26-year-old Margaret Clerk of Glasgow, has been awarded a scholarship to the United States by the International Research Fund to study the problems of left-handed people.

Herself left-handed, Miss Clerk is one of the leading Scottish experts on this subject. She has lectured in Denmark and Sweden, and while in the United States will do research work and discuss with teachers her discoveries and conclusions.

A graduate of Glasgow University, Miss Clerk was given a post by the university to do special work on left-handedness for three years. She has tested hundreds of children and examined many university students.

One of her conclusions is that writing is the biggest difficulty for the left-handed person. She found that a surprisingly large number of teachers force their pupils to write with the right hand, although a special pen helps.

Miss Clerk believes that left-handedness is hereditary, but says that left-handers are of no special type—either mentally or physically.

Are you a harried hostess? No need to be! Plan a molded hot salad for that luncheon for "the girls." Make the gelatin salad the day before your luncheon and you won't have a worry in the world. If you do not have a ring or fluted mold, or other special molds for salads, a small loaf pan will do nicely. Any salad needs a good dressing, so accompany it with a bowl generously filled with rich mayonnaise or salad dressing. Complete the menu with assorted sandwiches . . . Swiss cheese, peanut butter, cream cheese and jelly . . . and hot coffee. Molded salads are so pretty your friends will know you went to special effort to please them, yet they will appreciate the fact that your luncheon was easily served and left you free to enjoy their company.

ISLAND DIGEST

SIDNEY, Sept. 3—About 150 members of the Saanich C.C.F. Association heard Frank Snowsell, M.L.A.-elect, Colin Cameron, and J. H. Corsbie, provincial president, express high hopes for the future of the C.C.F.

"We can take on Bennett at any time and beat him in any riding," Mr. Snowsell said.

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 3—A proposal to finance an Alberni-Tofino highway by increasing the stumpage on timber in the Alberni area has the approval of small logging operators and has aroused the interest of the Social Credit government.

LADYSMITH, Sept. 3—Allowing for a yearly population increase of five per cent, the city has sufficient space in the cemetery to look after all needs until the year 2010. Ald. Allan Carey has reported to the city council.

PARKSVILLE, Sept. 3—A Coombs fisherman made a catch recently at French Creek that was just about as complete as a catch could be.

Feeling a weight on his trolling line, Doug Krog pulled up a rod and reel. While reeling in the line on the salvaged tackle a coho struck the badly-rusted Tom Mack spoon. He landed the coho, shined the spoon, then caught another coho on it.

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 3—Small logging operators, alarmed at possible results of a meeting between H. R. MacMillan and Premier W. A. C. Bennett, were assured by their business agent that the visit was "purely social."

"No forest policy commitments were made or even discussed," Tom Christie told the Coast

Small Operators' Association. "Nothing took place that should cause our membership to be uneasy."

DUNCAN, Sept. 3—Rector of St. John's Anglican Church for the past 14 years, and of St. Mary's Church, Somenos, Canon H. T. Archbold, M.A., died suddenly Monday. He was 72.

Born in Norfolk, Eng., he came to Canada 52 years ago. He is survived by his widow, three sons, and a daughter.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 3 p.m. at St. John's.

Ringing Telephone Blamed for Death

OTTAWA, Sept. 3 (BUP)—A Coroner's jury in Ottawa has blamed a ringing telephone for the death of Joseph Robichaud, a 26-year-old construction worker.

Robichaud fell 76 feet from a scaffold elevator on Aug. 25. The jury held that Emile Clouthier, operator of the elevator, mistook a telephone bell for the signal from the sixth floor to lower the lift. The elevator started down just as Robichaud was about to push a wheelbarrow from it. He lost his balance and fell when the lift was brought to an abrupt halt.

Dr. McInnes Funeral To Be Held Thursday

Funeral services for Dr. Angus McInnes, 52, well-known Victoria dentist, will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. from Hayward's Funeral Home.

Burial will be at Ross Bay Cemetery.

The native Victorian, a fine amateur athlete in his youth, died Monday at his home.

give wood floors
heavy
wax protection
as you clean them

In one application

Johnson's Beautiflor cleans floors better than scrubbing... and gives them the gleaming beauty and protection that only genuine polishing wax can give

You'll bless the day you got acquainted with Beautiflor, the remarkable liquid wax developed by Johnson's Wax research!

Beautiflor brings you a new, far better way to care for your wood floors. As you apply, it loosens embedded dirt, dissolves grease, removes heel marks and stains. At the same time, it leaves a coat of heavy wax protection that keeps your floors lovely for months.

Beautiflor buffs quickly and easily to a lovely lustre—the satiny, long-lasting shine that only genuine polishing wax can give.

For the cleanest, most beautiful wood floors you ever had, give them a one-application Beautiflor treatment soon!

For advice on floor care or the use of wax, write Margaret Scott, Johnson's Wax Consumer Service, S. C. Johnson & Son, Ltd., Brantford, Ontario.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Misuse of Laxatives May Work in Reverse

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Not long ago a correspondent asked for a list of foods which were constipating and a list of those which were not. This is an impossible task, but a discussion of the subject in general is well worth while, since this is one of the most common of all medical problems.

True constipation means that fecal matter is retained in the intestinal tract longer than it should be so that there is excessive reabsorption of water and waste. A great deal of expert study has been given to constipation and the causes are well known.

Diet, of course, has a great deal to do with it. Many foods are so highly refined that they do not contain the bulk necessary to assist in proper movement of the bowels.

In some parts of the world and at some times of the year there are not enough fresh fruits and vegetables in the diet. These foods not only supply a large part of the bulk, but also aid in peristalsis, or the wave-like movement of the intestine which carries the waste down through the intestinal tract.

Another great cause of constipation is the abuse of laxatives. Many people have the idea that if they clean themselves out once a week with a good, strong purge it will be good for them.

When they do this the normal rhythm of bowel evacuation is disturbed and usually not re-established for several days. Also the regular or inadvised use of laxatives tends to set up a bad habit of the bowel, so that laxatives have to be relied on more and more.

Improper training and neglect, especially in childhood, have much to do with the condition, also. Trouble sometimes comes from failure to set aside a regular time of day for a bowel movement. Also many people get into trouble because they do not yield at once to nature's call, which may occur at any time of day.

EXERCISE HELPS

Treatment of simple constipation is usually successful unless the trouble has begun in childhood or has lasted for a long time. The underlying cause, whether it be diet, neglect or abuse of laxatives, first has to be corrected.

Exercise, too, helps to overcome constipation. It improves peristalsis and strengthens the muscles of the abdomen which aid in the expulsion of waste matter. Of course, elderly people have to be careful about what exercise they take, and they may have to continue to rely on laxatives, at least to some extent.

Unregistered Civic Voters Given Notice

Persons eligible to vote in the City of Victoria who are not on the voters' list have between now and October 31 to register.

Registration of new voters got under way Tuesday in the city clerk's office at city hall. City clerk Frank Hunter said he anticipated some 600 people would add their names to the long list during the next two months. He said this would bring the number of eligible voters to well over the 20,000 mark.

City property owners, Mr. Hunter noted, are listed automatically. Those asked to register are householders and licensees not on the last year's list. Payment of road and poll tax does not automatically place one's name on the list, he pointed out. It is up to the individual to register.

Any person who is a British subject, over the age of 21 and a resident of the city since January 1 can vote as a householder upon payment of the $2 road tax and the $5 poll tax.

Some exemptions are allowed in the imposition of these taxes, depending on sex, age, annual income and current military service.

U.K.'s Highest Order Turned Down by G.B.S.

LONDON, Sept. 3 (Reuters).—George Bernard Shaw, the late Irish dramatist and socialist, was "more than once" offered one of Britain's highest distinctions, the Order of Merit, but refused it each time, his former secretary said today.

"I need no publicity... either I shall be remembered as a playwright as long as Aristophanes and rank with Shakespeare and Moliere, or I shall be a forgotten clown before the end of the century," Miss Blanche Patch quoted him as once remarking.

The order is limited to a living membership of 24 Britons, plus "honorary members" of foreign countries.

SACRED TEMPLE

The most sacred temple of the world's Buddhists is the Dalada Malagawa in Ceylon, where a tooth of Buddha is enshrined.

Vital British Gold, Dollar Reserves Down During August

LONDON, Sept. 3 (AP).—The vital gold and dollar reserves of Britain and its sterling area partners slumped $44,000,000 during August, the treasury announced today.

The decline dropped the reserve to $1,672,000,000, well under the $2,000,000,000 regarded by the treasury as the minimum for safety.

The reserves are the entire capital of the sterling area for trade with countries such as the United States and Canada which requires dollars for payment of goods.

In comparison, Canada's official reserves of United States dollars and gold climbed to $1,827,700,000 on June 30, the highest in history. The reserves held by Britain are for a sterling area with a total population of some 600,000,000, more than 40 times the Canadian population of 14,000,000.

HATED SCHOOL SUICIDES

WELLAND, Ont., Sept. 3 (CP).—A 13-year-old girl committed suicide Tuesday because she didn't want to go back to school, police said.

Oscar Little said he found his daughter, Mildred, in a shed. She was bleeding from a chest wound and died in hospital. A .22-calibre rifle was found in the shed.

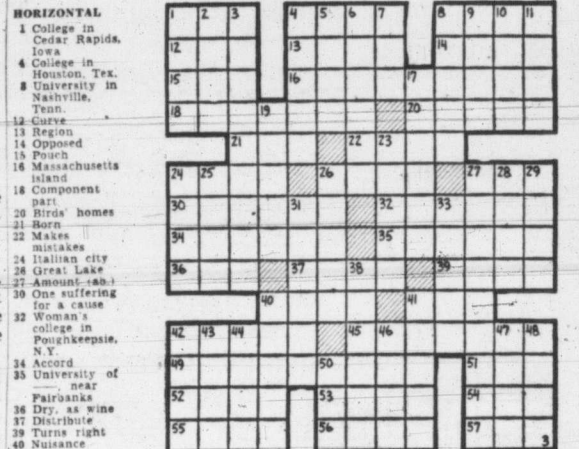

Mr. Little said Mildred had been brooding over having to return to school from her summer holidays.

Castlegar Arsonist At Work

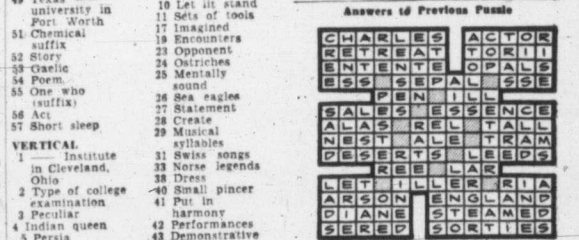

CASTLEGAR, B.C., Sept. 3 (BUP).—R.C.M.P. at Castlegar, in the heart of British Columbia's Doukhobor country, Tuesday investigated the burning of a nearly-completed one during the week-end.

Police said the home of John Bloodoff was fired with two and a half gallons of gasoline spilled in the bathroom. Volunteers managed to save the frame of the house but the interior was a total loss.

It was not known whether the arson was the work of the fanatical Sons of Freedom who have been responsible for many fire raids in the Kootenay Valley.

Police Chief Against All-Night Parking Plan

Police Chief John Blackstock is opposed to changing traffic rules to permit all-night parking on city streets.

His views were expressed in a letter to City Council's public works committee Tuesday. The committee sought the chief's opinion after city traffic engineer Robert Doble put forward a recommendation in favor of allowing all night parking in residential areas.

The chief said automobiles left out all night were an invitation to petty thieving. He said his department was not big enough to patrol all residential areas to keep a watch on the cars.

At the same time, the chief raised objection to certain motels and apartments which have no parking facilities for their tenants. He suggested the city require such establishments to make provision for parking.

The chief said police officers were ticketing local residents leaving their cars parked out all night, but were only leaving warning notes on visitors' cars.

LABOR ASKS LIQUOR VOTE IN MANITOBA

WINNIPEG, Sept. 3 (BUP)—The Winnipeg and District Trades and Labor Council has approved a resolution asking for a provincial referendum on Manitoba's liquor laws.

The labor resolution, approved Tuesday night at a meeting, asks for a referendum at the next election. It was argued that laws are broken continually in Manitoba, proving citizens don't approve the laws... and that the present laws promote heavy drinking rather than moderation.

And Alderman David Orlikow has given notice that he will introduce a similar resolution at the next sitting of city council. Orlikow's notice of motion makes much the same points as the labor resolution.

HEALTH INSURANCE OTTAWA PROBLEM

May Be Major Issue in Federal Election Expected Next Fall if Tories Oppose It

By BRIAN O'LEARY
Times Ottawa Representative

OTTAWA, Sept. 3—National health insurance may be the major issue in the next federal election, now expected to come some time in the fall of 1953.

The present Liberal administration, hard-pressed for some major national issue on which to battle the coming electoral contest, may settle on this question, if federal Conservatives oppose it.

Already Conservative opinion—provincially at any rate—seems to be against such a national scheme. Provincial politicians of other political stripes seem in favor.

This division by provincial administrations—and they would have some say on whether the federal government should enter this field of activity or not—is underlined in the provincial health survey reports now coming into Ottawa.

These provincial health survey reports were compiled and written by provincial health committees appointed by the various provincial governments, while survey costs were shouldered in part by Ottawa.

The surveys touched all aspects of health in the provinces. But the major point of interest in them was the various provincial attitudes towards a national health insurance scheme.

British Columbia's report was strongly in favor of a national health scheme. It was made before the present Bennett Social Credit administration took office in Victoria. The Bennett government both favored a national health scheme.

The Liberal administrations of Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick saw good and bad points in such a plan.

While they did not favor an immediate start on such a plan by federal authorities, they were not against it in principle or as a long-range project.

But Canada's two Conservative provincial governments in Ontario and Quebec turned in reports to Ottawa which did not even mention the question.

(While Quebec's government is Union Nationale in name, many of its members, including Premier Maurice Duplessis, belonged to the Quebec Conservative party before it was swallowed into the Union Nationale party in the 1930's.)

Government spokesmen in Ottawa didn't know whether this lack of mention of national health insurance in the Ontario and Quebec reports meant:

1. It was just overlooked by mistake in the reports;

2. It is and will be Conservative policy to oppose such a national rights;

3. A question of provincial rights.

Most political observers in Ottawa ruled out the first reason, saying it is hardly possible to overlook such an important aspect of national health as this by mistake.

Piper Meets His Prime Minister

It was imported from Scotland—but it has become a traditional Canadian welcome for visiting dignitaries, so the ceremonial wail of the pipes has greeted Prime Minister St. Laurent at many of his B.C. stops. Here he is shown shaking hands with Pipe Major Gordon Halcrow of Penticton after his arrival at Penticton airport.

St. Laurent to Continue At Liberal Party's Helm

Compiled From CP and UP Dispatches

Prime Minister St. Laurent indicated in Vancouver today that providing his health holds he is prepared to lead the Liberal Party again in the next federal election.

The Prime Minister's answer to a question that has been intriguing the nation for months came at a press conference when he was asked directly if he planned to continue in the leadership.

"I hope my health will continue to be such that it will be the right thing to do," replied the 70-year-old government leader.

But when the election will be the Prime Minister was non-committal.

He said, "You gentlemen know as well as I do that an election can be held on 60 days' notice, but ability to hold an election and probabilities as to when it will be held may be quite different."

"You gentlemen also know that for the next 12 months we have a very busy program ahead."

Parliament meets a few weeks from now. Some time during the debate on the speech from the throne I will have to leave and go to the Prime Minister's meeting in London.

We will resume parliament after Christmas and then there is a very special ceremony a few months after that, the Coronation in London.

"With all these things on the calendar, I am not going to attempt to peer into the future and say what will take place in political events."

A reporter asked Mr. St. Laurent if an election this fall could be safely regarded as out of the question and the Prime Minister replied "I am not going to go beyond what I have said."

Valley Residents Turn Out En Masse

By HUMPHRY DAVY
Times Staff Reporter

SICAMOUS, B.C., Sept. 3—Ogopogo, the legendary dweller in Lake Okanagan, was just about the only resident of this fertile valley who did not turn out to greet Louis St. Laurent as he visited Penticton, Summerland, Kelowna and Vernon.

At every stop on his "meet the people" tour, he was met by enthusiastic crowds of plain citizens, who elbowed public officials aside to shake his hand.

"He's the handsomest man I ever set eyes on," was the glowing compliment paid by Mrs. E. P. Ritchie of Penticton. And an Indian chief allowed he is "the sweetest guy I ever met."

His visit to the Okanagan Valley marked the first time a Prime Minister ever visited this district. The late Prime Minister Mackenzie King once stopped over at Penticton when he was a member of the opposition some 30 years ago.

At Penticton, the Prime Minister was guest at a civic luncheon immediately on his arrival from Trail. He also addressed a gathering of over 1,000 at the town park.

He was met at the Penticton airport by Mayor William A. Rathbur, Judge M. M. Colquhoun and other civic and business leaders of the community. At the luncheon, he received from the Fruit Growers' Association, a silver basket containing some of the choicest peaches grown in the Okanagan. The presentation was made by little Linda King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. King.

The child was shy, but the prime minister soon had her at ease. He lifted her from the floor and hugged her. "You lovely little thing," he said. Linda blushed but finally responded by giving him a hug.

Later at Penticton Park where he spoke on Canada's future, the prime minister met several pioneers of the district. One was Mrs. R. B. White, 75, whose father served as a revenue officer when British Columbia was still a British colony.

Another was Chief Louis of Inkampep, sporting a Mexican hat and a cherry red shirt.

After shaking hands with the prime minister, the chief, taking a chew of tobacco said "He's the sweetest guy I ever met. I'll punch any one in the nose who says he isn't."

TWO LOGGERS ELECTROCUTED NEAR DUNCAN

Loan Planned For West Coast Video Station

Approval of House Would See Early Start on Construction

VANCOUVER, Sept. 3 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said here today that the government is going to recommend an additional loan to the C.B.C. for its television program.

100% City Reception Seen Likely

Victoria would get practically 100 per cent reception if a sufficiently powerful transmitting station and high enough tower were installed on the mainland, according to R. G. Pearce, local television technician.

"Grouse Mountain would be a perfect site for a tower," he said. "However, if the station is not sufficiently powerful, a relay station on one of the hills near here would be required for really good reception."

Between 500 and 700 TV sets are now in operation here, he said, and enjoy 70-per cent reception from Seattle.

"When a second transmitter now constructed is given permission to operate, reception will be excellent," he said.

1,000 Soldiers Locked Out of Town's Cafes

WAINWRIGHT, Alta., Sept. 3 (CP)—Sixteen Canadian soldiers of the Wainwright army camp near here are under military arrest following a riot in this northern Alberta town Monday night which resulted in $1,000 property damage.

At one point, when provosts detailed to patrol the town were unable to cope with the situation, a town resident drove a fire truck to the scene and turned hoses on the soldiers.

The disturbance quickly ended when the provost marshal called out all unit commanders from the camp and transport to return the men to barracks.

Main damage was caused to windows, show cases and booths of the Buffalo Cafe. Adjoining buildings suffered minor damage. No one was reported injured seriously although a few members of the provost were "roughed up."

Monday marked the end of exercise Buffalo III at the Wainwright camp, culminating a rigorous five-month summer training program for the Korea-bound troops.

When the exercise ended, some 1,000 troops were given leave and most came into Wainwright, 130 miles southeast of Edmonton.

An army spokesman said that the town's restaurants soon became overcrowded. The owners, realizing they would be unable to accommodate the great numbers of soldiers, locked their doors.

The army spokesman said charges may be laid against the men who participated in the riot.

U.K. Labor Hits Malan Race Policy

Churchill Asked To Intercede

MARGATE, Kent, Eng., Sept. 3 (CP)—Britain's powerful Trades Union Congress demanded today that Prime Minister Churchill intercede in South Africa to gain the release of labor leaders and end racial discrimination there.

By a unanimous vote, the 900 delegates who represent 8,000,000 British workers passed a resolution condemning the policies of South Africa's Prime Minister, Daniel F. Malan.

The resolution called upon the general council, executive body of the T.U.C., to "make the strongest possible protest to Dr. Malan, and also to our own government, with a view to obtaining the release of our colleagues, and an end to all racial discrimination."

Malan's apartheid (racial-segregation) policies, the resolution said, are "a complete denial of the declaration of human rights adopted by the United Nations to which the British government were signatories."

Malan, a sworn enemy of the British Labor Party, has repeatedly threatened to break away from the Commonwealth and seek a South African republic if British criticism of his regime does not abate.

The T.U.C., backbone of the Labor Party, is mapping its policies in the annual convention this week. Decisions here will serve as a basis for the Labor Party's platform for returning to power when the party meets in its annual convention later this month.

Enrollment In Schools Is Up 900

Greater Victoria's public school enrollment is up about 900 over what it was last year, municipal inspector J. F. K. English announced today.

Last year's enrollment was 11,860. This year's count is expected to be close to 12,760.

Initial count of heads made when children reported back to school Tuesday showed 12,511 in attendance. To this figure must be added the 250 children who were destined to attend the Oak Bay Junior High School, which remains unfinished.

These youngsters will report for school Friday morning at 9. They will be fitted into elementary schools on a shift basis until their own new school is ready.

These pupils are asked to report back to their old schools if they came last June from either Willows, Monterey or Margaret Kenning. The few who attended Oaklands last year are to report to Willows.

Steel Pole Touches High Tension Wires

DUNCAN, B.C., Sept. 3 (BUP)—Two loggers were electrocuted at noon today while working along the right-of-way of the B.C. Power Commission high tension line, three miles east of Duncan.

The victims were identified as Lloyd F. Braithwaite, 32, of Duncan, and Bert Leakey, 50, also of Duncan. Both were married.

Police said the accident occurred before noon when the men were raising a steel pole to begin loading logs aboard a truck. The pole came in contact with the high tension wire and they died instantly.

They were employed by the Braithwaite Lumber Company, Duncan.

Dr. A. E. Green will conduct an inquest in Duncan into the double death.

Now that we've finally got th' election results, might's well take down th' posters.
